INTRODUCTION

GREGGS WESTWARD

Being a publication to commemorate the courage, determination, and stamina of those Greggs who trekked west, their names shall not be trusted to forgetfulness or to a deteriorating cemetery marker, but to the printed page. Sentiment is more powerful than law in shaping life, to preserve the records which else would be swept away forever is the achievement of Robert, Hattie and Ellen Gregg who have devoted much time and pains to collect this accurate and valuable material. It is now offered to all who may feel themselves a part of this information. Our ancestors sleep, but the loom of life never stops.

You will be pleasantly introduced to dispersed kin-folk.

PREFACE

In "Greggs Westward" an effort has been made to show the paths, faith, courage, determination and vision of these peoples who from the hills of Scotland, fjords of Norway and the lands of their birth, have crossed ocean, mountains, rivers and plains to settle throughout North America. Included is a tribute to all the families who gave their men and women to the service of their country.

The outline form for the "family tree" came about as a result of the inter-relationship of the families and for the fact that the book covers twelve generations. The outline of the "family tree" is a continuing outline on the right hand page. The left hand page includes pictures and family stories. The pictures were chosen as representative of the family or of a time in the family's history. The inside covers include all the families for whom we had pictures and the only regret is that more pictures could not be used. The family stories were included so that they might not be lost to future generations, and are placed as closely as possible in relation to their "family tree". The original phrasing, quotes, and thoughts were used where adaptable to space, and in several instances were printed almost word for word.

The Center Inset is for an easy survey for the geneological study and for an explanation of abbreviations. The Index has been compiled so that names might be easily located.

The hope would be that this book might be a stepping stone for those interested in pursuing further study into the past, in recording present events and in planning and looking into the future.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Special words of thanks should be given to the following people:

Robert Gregg who provided that the book, "Greggs Westward" be published and distributed;

Hattie and Robert Gregg who so faithfully wrote the letters soliciting the data for the book;

Willis Gregg Corbitt who introduced the editor to "Quaker Greggs" and to geneological research and gave permission to reprint his poem, "The Family Tree";

Hazel M. Kendall who so graciously gave permission to use material from her book, "Quaker Greggs" and who provided the introduction;

Mildred Hibbard who supplied the Potter family records; Beatrice Gregg Tutterrow Bergstrom for research for the Lot Gregg family; Cora Rundahl and Hilda Rundahl Berg for the families from Coon Valley; Mary L. Cutsinger for information from the "The Maris Family" by George and Mary M. Maris (1683-1885);

Each family who personally sent their information so that the book could be as complete as possible;

Litho Compositors who so painstakingly reproduced the difficult outline;

Mr. B. Murray for his assistance with the pictures and layout plans;

The editor's patient family.

The Gregg family had its beginnings in the early history of Scotland. The strain of Gregg blood had its origin in two Gaelic speaking branches of the Celtic race — the Pict and Milesians. The Picts descended from Partholan who invaded Ireland from Middle Greece, 600 or 500 B.C., subdued and intermarried with the older race already established. The Milesians came in 350 B.C. primarily from Scythia. (It is interesting to note that their ancestral line extended unbroken to Noah.) These invasions took place on the accessible coast of Meath County, Ireland. After much fighting the main body of the Picts was forced to Scotland.

Then in Scotland there is a long history of war, peace, intermarriage and the establishment of a tribal system. This system gave way to a system of clans which became a distinctive and prominent phase of the Gaelic population during the reign of David I (1124-1153) of Scotland. The word "clan" or "cland" (Gaelic) implied "siol" meaning children of a common ancestor bound together by ties of blood and loyalty. The word "mac" meant "son of". So Siol Alpine, a great clan, included the smaller clans of the Macgregor, Grants, Mackinnon, Macnabs, Macphies, Macquarries and Maccaulays. Their common emblem was the Pine. The MacGregors were the senior branch of the Clan Alpine. Through the years the clan Gregor became one of the most powerful. King David II of Scotland (1331-1371) fearing for his security gave land rightfully belonging to the clan Gregor to the clan Campbell. This action resulted in a deadly feud between the two groups. By 1442 the MacGregors had been deprived of their land. They became tenants on other people's land. By an Act of Privy Council during the rule of James I (1603-1625, a reign of religious intrigues) on April 3, 1603, the name of MacGregor was abolished — no one to be baptized, married or buried by that name. An Act of June 24, 1613, decreed death for any person of the clan who should assemble in a group of more than four at one time. The clan took to the Highland mountains of Argyllshire and lived in scattered groups of four or five huts. The clan Gregor wore the tartan of scarlet red with narrow black checks. The slogan of the clan meant "The Woody Height". Their badge was the pine Scot Fir which was the forerunner of the Gregg coat-of-arms compiled in 1565-1566.

During the reign of Charles II (1651-1682) the MacGregors gave the King help so he in turn passed an Act in 1661 annulling all previous statutes that had been made against the MacGregors and thus allowed them to resume the use of their family name.

Our Greggs have their origin in the locale of northeastern Argyle whose history we have briefly touched upon.

EARLY BEGINNINGS

During the reign of King James who had a mania for colonization there was migration from Scotland to Nova Scotia and Ulster. After King James' visit in 1617 whole communities of clans left Scotland and settled in Ulster. Among these transplants were many Greggs. One group was led by John Gregg, evidently descended from next to the oldest son of Black John of the Coat-of-Mail. John had received from King James I a silver-studded, ivory-headed cane in esteem and appreciation for his influence in moving the Greggs from Scotland to County Antrim, Ulster, about 1618.

During the reign of Charles I (1625-1649) these Ulster Presbyterians were rigorously treated and insulted. William Gregg, the oldest son of John Gregg, was forced to leave his land sometime after May 1653. William Gregg (b. 1616 Scotland — d. 1672 Ardmore, Ireland) inherited the cane upon the death of his father (John Gregg, b. ca 1576 — d. ca 1644). William with his three sons, Richard, William (b. ca 1648) and John (There were probably daughters, too.) settled in Waterford County, Southern Ireland, at Ardmore. William died there as did his two sons, John in 1724 and Richard in 1741. The third son William became a convert to the Friends following a visit made to the area by William Penn. William Penn had visited Waterford in 1678 and had converted many Scots to the Society of Friends.

William became a member of a colonial Friend's group which left Ireland after 1682 probably in October and possibly in the ship "Caledonia" with a William Hoge. William had the cane with him. The cane by now was an heirloom and Charles A. Gregg of Fredericktown, Ohio (1944) is now the proud hereditary owner of the cane.

The ship of Friends landed at Upland which is now Chester, Pennsylvania, in 1682. William Gregg came with his wife and four small children. They settled near the present site of Centerville, Penna. (William Gregg was granted two hundred acres in 1683 and a warrant for an additional four hundred acres on Jan. 26, 1684. This land was in the northern section of one of William Penn's Manors, Rockland Manor. Conrad's History of Delaware, Vol. 2, p. 462).

William built a log cabin on this location and he called it Strand Millas. He continued to be active in the Friends Society. He died at his home on July 1, 1687, when he was about forty-five years old, and was buried there. John, the eldest son, had the job of administering the estate; the cane went to George the second son; and Richard inherited the home, Strand Millas, on the Brandywine. Richard died there apparently without heirs. The boys' mother died about January of 1692. Their sister Ann Gregg married Henry Dixon in 1690; and upon his death she married John Houghton.

John Gregg was born at Ardmore, Waterford County, Ireland, and was fourteen upon the family's arrival in America and only nineteen when his father died. John took over the management of the family. On November 11, 1694, at a Concord meeting John married Elizabeth Cooke of Darby (Concord) Penna. (The Cooke family had their origins in the Gales family in Beeston, Yorkshire, England, prior to 1100 AD; and their name was changed to the office they bore as "Cooke" in the manor houses of the great Lords). On August 17, 1702, John bought two hundred acres from William Penn and erected a mill on this site and subsequently gave this mill to his son William on April 10, 1730. John Gregg during his life time acquired some 5760 acres of land along the Brandywine about three miles wide reaching to Wilmington. He was a member of the Society of Friends, and his will was made as a yeoman of Christians Hundred, Delaware on March 6, 1738. The will was probated April 27, 1738, at Wilmington. His burial place is presumed to be in the Friends Burying Grounds at Center, Delaware. John and Elizabeth Gregg had seven children. Later during the Revolution the DuPont's bought some of the land and started to make gun powder. Since the homes suffered from shaking and cracking caused by the explosions, the Greggs gradually sold their homes and land to the DuPonts.

Samuel the fifth child of John and Elizabeth was born 1710 and died Sept. 10, 1767, in Delaware. He was married on February 27, 1737, at Kennett Meeting House to Ann Robinson who was born April 20, 1717, and died 1774. Samuel owned six hundred acres in Delaware, a slave state until the Civil War. Samuel and Ann had eight children.

Thomas Gregg, the eighth child of Samuel and Ann Gregg, was a wheelwright born in Kennett, Chester County, Pennsylvania. He was married on October 7, 1762, at Goose Creek Meeting House, Lincoln, Virginia, to Rebeckah Janney daughter of Jacob Janney of the Colony of Virginia and his wife Hannah. Thomas and Rebeckah had seven children.

Samuel the eldest of Thomas's family married Ann Sinclair who was the daughter of Mary and James Sinclair. (The Sinclair family originated with Count Robert de Santo Claro, a Norman who came into England in 1066 with William the Conqueror.) The first six children of Samuel and Ann were born in Loudoun County, Virginia. By 1802 Samuel had moved the family westward to Belmont County, Ohio. Samuel evidently had the power of attorney for he bought and sold land in these various counties: Belmont County, Ohio, Fayette County, Penna., Jefferson County, Ohio and Knox County, Ohio (from Deed records, St. Clairsville, Ohio). Samuel was a miller operating his mill on the Kokosing River in the northeast part of Knox County. Samuel was referred to as "Uncle Sammy", and James Allen (ca 1870) had written a poem entitled "Ye Ancient Gregg's Mill" which was a tribute to the close family relationship of "Uncle Sammy" and his kinfolk.

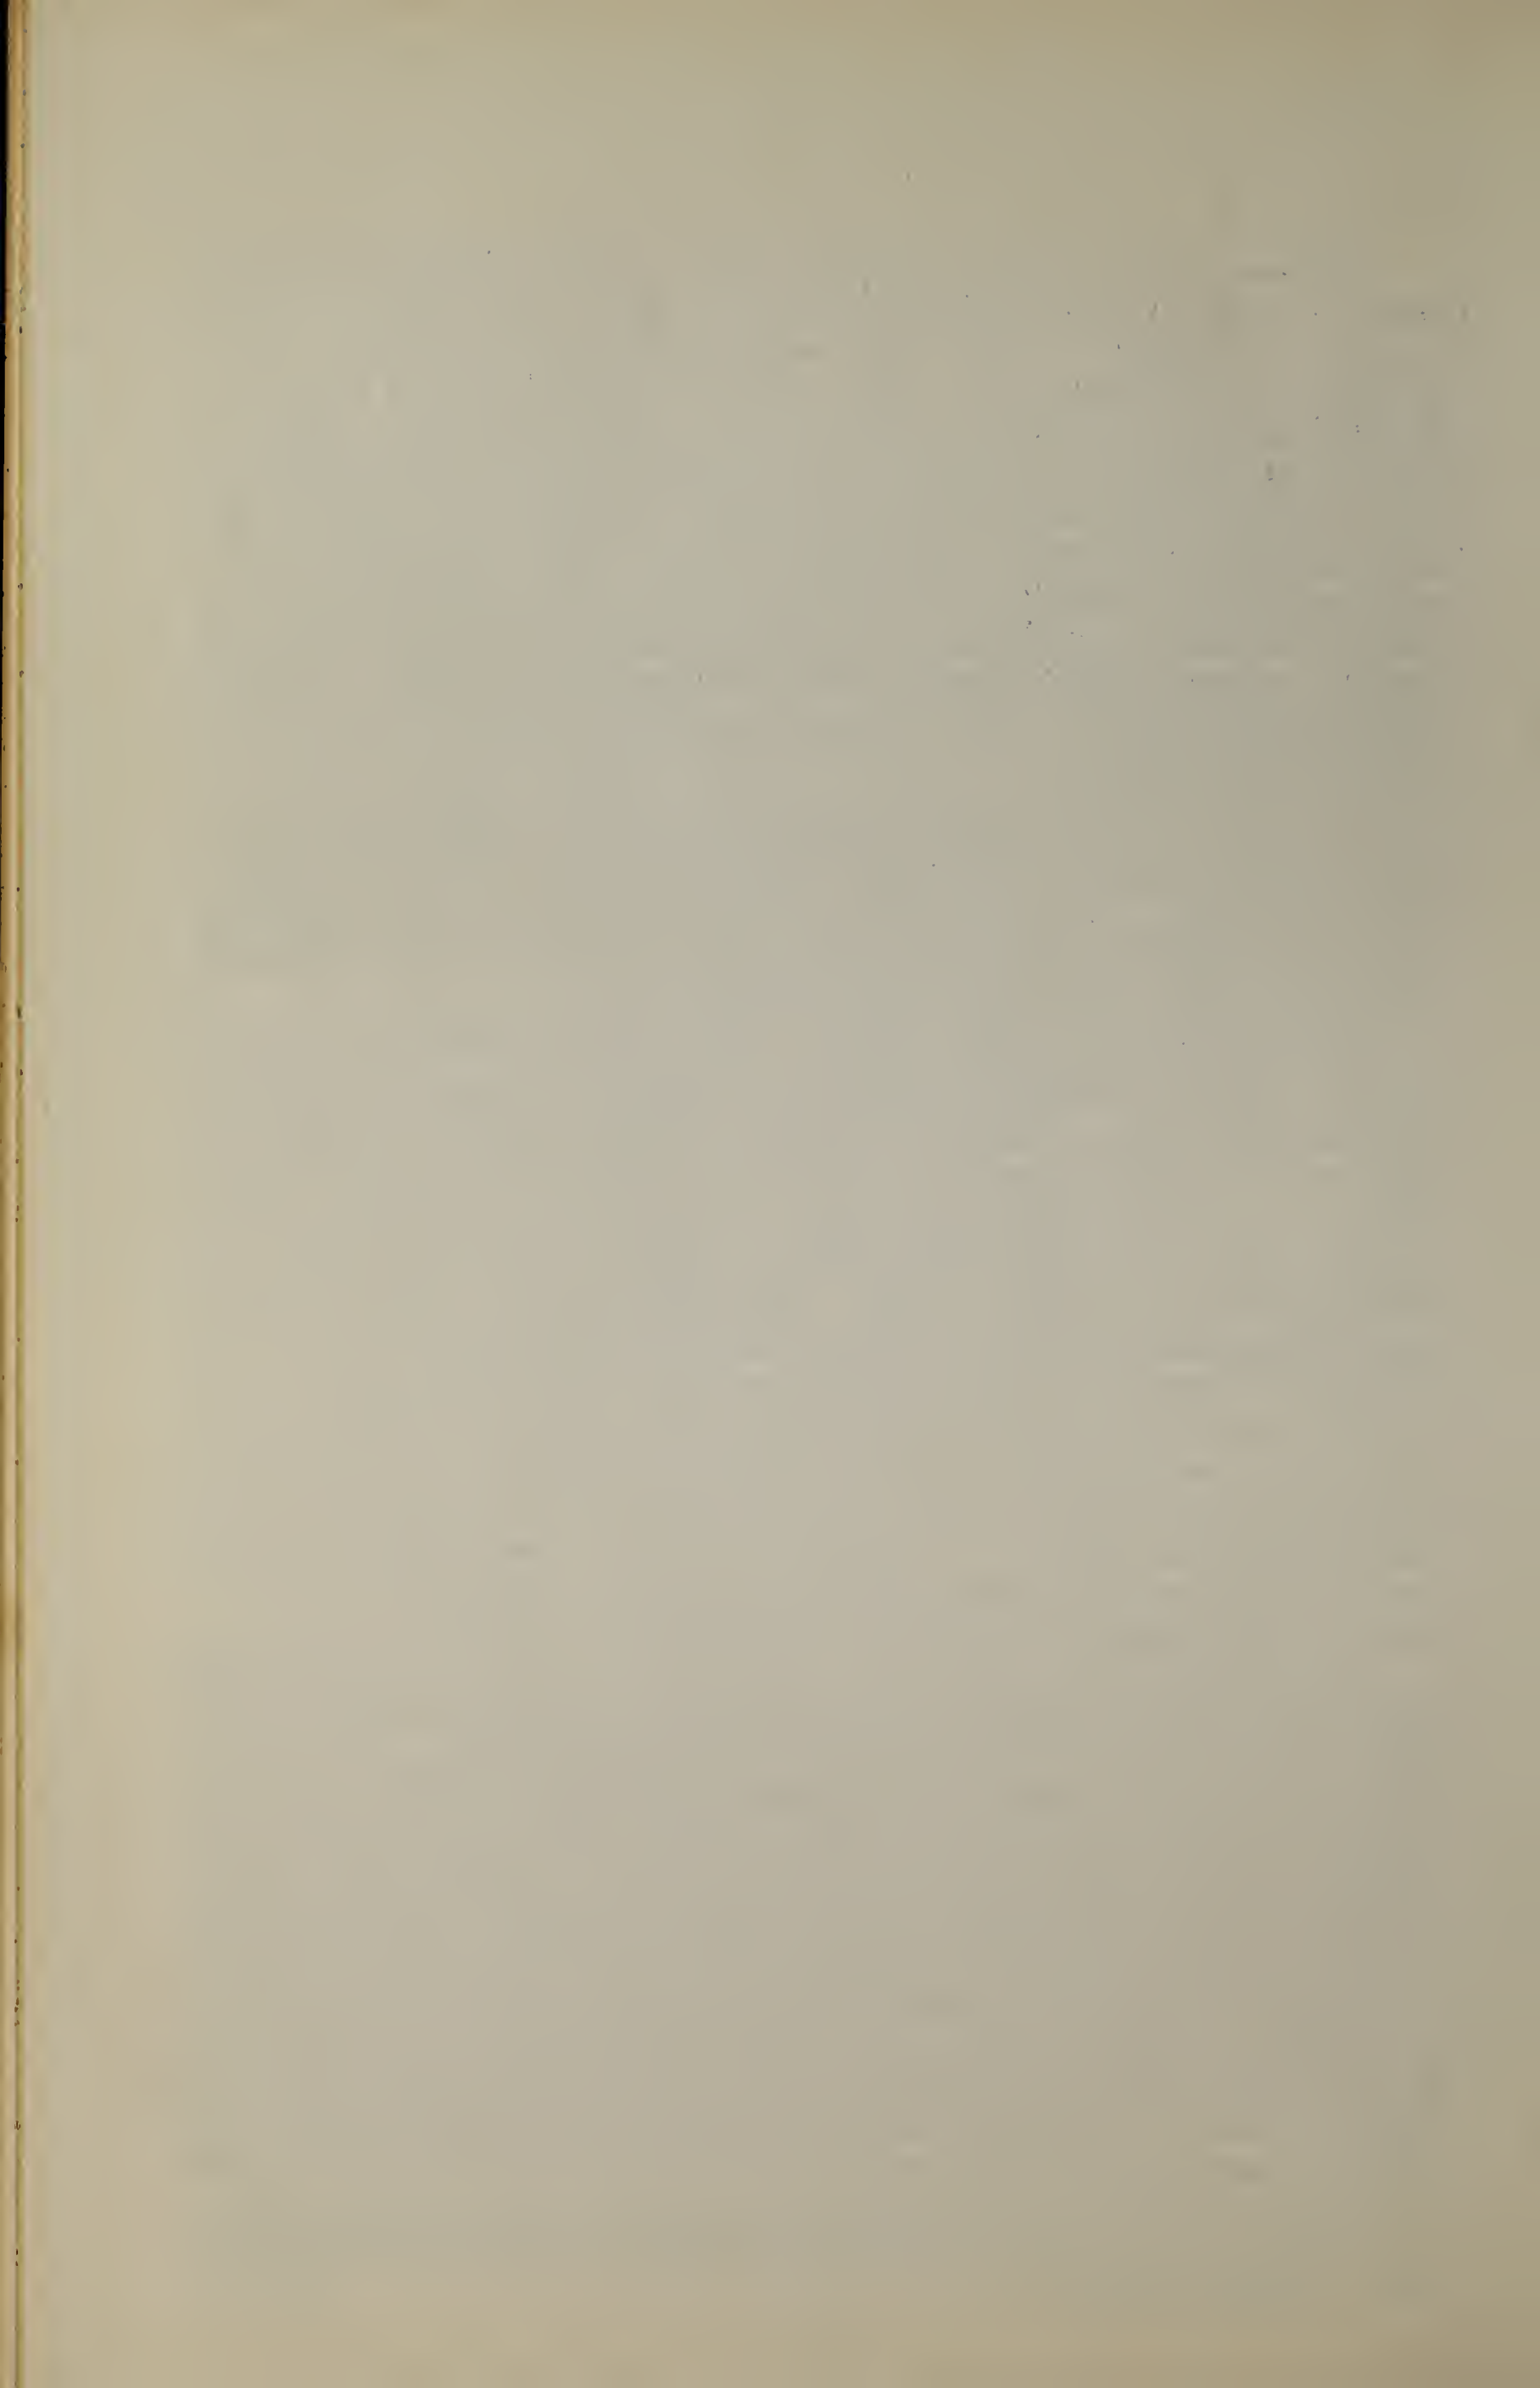

William Gregg was the eighth child of eleven born to Ann and Samuel Gregg. He was born in Belmont County, Ohio, May 31, 1802 and died November 7, 1862. He married Hannah Carleton, b. April 10, 1804, and died July 9, 1875. She was the daughter of Mark and Beulah Carleton of Belmont County, Ohio. There were nine children born to the Greggs; Carleton was the oldest child and was born on June 3, 1827. The sixth child was Phoebe Holloway Carleton Gregg born January 29, 1838 in Somerton, Ohio. On March 1, 1866 Phoebe married James McCabe in Somerton, Ohio. In 1899 Jim McCabe died in Hackelman, Indiana, and in 1902 Phoebe moved to California with her daughter Dora McCabe Miller Ross and her family. Phoebe died there on July 4, 1931 and is buried in the Reedley Cemetery, Reedley, California.

Carleton Gregg on April 4, 1850, married Nancy E. Maris. Carleton died shortly after the birth of his son Nathaniel Gregg. Nancy then married Dr. John Beaty of Brown County, Indiana. Nathaniel after serving in the U.S. Army married Charity Squires, and they moved westward from Indiana to Montana. Their children in turn moved further west to the Pacific Coast.

Samuel Gregg the fifth child of John and Elizabeth Gregg had a brother Thomas, the third oldest in the family. He was born in 1701 and married Dinah Harlan. They had eight children. Their fifth child was Lydia Gregg born on Oct. 15, 1734, in Chester County, Penna., and died Nov. 16, 1790. On Oct. 26, 1757, she married Thomas Carleton of Kennett, Penna. Lydia and Thomas had a son Mark Carleton, b. July 2, 1763. Mark Carleton on Sept. 12, 1793, married Beulah Mendenhall and they moved to Belmont County, Ohio in 1816. They had eleven children and the eighth child was Hannah Carleton who married William Gregg. They had nine children. The records of two of these children, Carleton Gregg who married Nancy E. Maris, and Phoebe Gregg who married Jim McCabe, are recorded in the following pages. To this has been added the records of families related by marriage. In addition the descendants of Lydia's brother John Gregg are found in the lineage of Lot Gregg.

John Gregg, the brother of Lydia Gregg Carleton, married Ruth Smith Sherward a widow with two children, and they had nine children. Most of his children moved to Belmont County, Ohio. Caleb Gregg, the seventh child, was born April 15, 1770, in Loudoun County, Virginia, and died March 12, 1812. Caleb was married on Nov. 14, 1795, to Hannah Warford, b. Nov. 22, 1774 — died March 28, 1865. (In the records of Friends) They had nine children: the fifth child, Elijah Gregg, b. Nov. 13, 1803, in Virginia, died and is buried in Antelope County, Nebraska. Elijah Gregg married Phoebea Spencer, b. 1802 in Virginia. They had nine children, and the second child, Lot Gregg, was born in 1834 and is buried in Jerusalem, Morrow County, Ohio. On Oct. 26, 1854 he married Ruth Russell in Belmont County, and they had nine children whose family histories are recorded here.

These excerpts from "Quaker Greggs" establish the background for "Greggs Westward".

The Nathaniel Maris Gregg and Charity Squires Gregg Families

NATHANIEL MARIS GREGG

Upon his discharge from the U. S. Army in 1876, Nathaniel returned to Somerton, Ohio, where he had relatives. His grandparents, William and Hannah Carleton Gregg had lived there and are both buried there. Hannah had died the previous year, 1875, and William in 1862. Aunt Phoebe and Uncle Jim McCabe with their two children, Dora and Frank, were still there, but in 1880 they moved on to Indiana, then further westward to California. His Uncle Will Gregg lived in Barnsville, Ohio, and his Uncle Israel married and went to Missouri and then westward to Arkansas where our research leaves him. Nathaniel's father Carleton died while Nat was quite young, and the widow Nancy married in 1858 to Dr. John Beaty of Morgantown, Indiana. Nancy died in 1888 and is buried in Lake Fork Cemetery near Atwood, Ill. Carleton Gregg is presumed to be buried in an unmarked grave in Unity Church Yard, Brown County, Indiana.

Nathaniel went to Indiana where he worked in a timber and saw mill in Salt Creek near Needmore. There he met Charity Squires at the home of his employer, Robert Howard. Charity and Nat were married in Needmore and then made their home in Bloomington. After the birth of Robert and Virgil the family moved to a timbered tract about three miles north of Bean Blossom. There Nat with the help of his Uncle Jim McCabe and neighbors built a two story log house which is still in use. Mae and Harry were born in the log house. The family farmed there until the children grew up.

"Blessings on thee, little man,
Barefoot boy, with cheek of tan!
With thy turned-up pantaloons,
And thy merry whistled tunes;
And thy red lip, redder still,
Kissed by strawberries on the hill;
With the sunshine on thy face,
Through thy torn brim's jaunty grace.
From my heart I give thee joy,
I was once a barefoot boy."

— John Greenleaf Whittier

BEAN BLOSSOM FARM

There are many memories of those days spent on the farm. A large share of the time went to chores. There were two well remembered ones—one for its source of argument and the second for its red-faced embarrassment. The argument arose from whose turn was it to carry the water from the spring which had a milk house nearby. The second chore was plowing or rather helping with the plowing with a twelve inch No. 40 Oliver Plow, pulled by the team of Horses, Flora and Bill. One time everything was going well until the horses went "gee" when the boy tried for "haw". Yes, the moldboard went in two pieces. Dad and the plough boy were off to Morgantown in the farm wagon for repairs. Price was $9.00 which was a lot of money around 1900.

One of the crops of the farm was corn which was husked, shelled and then taken to the Grist Mill to be made into cornmeal. The nearby Grist Mill was operated by Mr. Haggard who had lost his hearing while serving in the Civil War. As was the custom of the times, Mr. Haggard would keep a share of the corn for his work and put the customer's meal in a sack. This was a trip for the boys to make carrying the corn in sacks on the horse's back. The wheat that the family harvested was taken to the flour mill in Bean Blossom. The two main items that had to be bought in town were sugar and coffee. The sugar was at first the brown sugar, then came white and then came granulated sugar. Coffee, Lion and Arbuckle brands, was in the form of green coffee beans that had to be browned in the oven and then ground in the coffee grinder that was a must in every farm kitchen. After awhile the covered wagons came around to the farm homes. These "hucksters" wagons carried everything from thread to groceries to kerosene.

Walking to school through the woods of Beach, Oak, Maple, Red and White Oak, Dogwood, and Ironwood, all virgin timber, the children could enjoy the changing seasons. In the Fall hazel nuts and black walnuts were harvested and stored in the empty sugar barrels for winter use. In the winter there would be the drifts of snow to wade through and the hills to slide down.

The trip to remember was the one made in the farm wagon to Uncle Sammy Potter's farm near White River. Uncle Sammy caught a fifty-two pound catfish that fed the whole family and all the guests. Nathaniel continued the trip with his family by taking them on to Paragon, Whitaker, Gosport and then home for a trip of some seventy miles.

WESTWARD

The next move after the family grew up was to go to Bean Blossom and to establish their home in town. There the family operated the telephone exchange in their home. Mae was the operator. Charity also had a millinery shop and rented guest rooms to travelers.

After the children grew up and left home, (Robert after schooling moved to Oregon; Virgil, Mae and Harry westward to homestead in Montana) Nathaniel and Charity also made the move westward. Nat first went to Dawson County, Montana, in 1909, and then four years later returned to Montana to make his home. In 1915 Nat and Charity homesteaded one and a half miles out from Richey on the Lambert Road. The first Sunday after moving on their farm they started a Sunday School. They were also charter members of the Methodist Church in Richey. A stained glass window depicting the Twenty-third Psalm is dedicated in the memory of their work on behalf of the church. At that time the nearest railroad was at Glendive, and it required three days and two nights for Nat to make the round trip to haul material with which he constructed the first substantial home built in the community. Later in 1916 the Great Northern Railroad branch line was completed and went by their place. The Greggs later moved into town, and their house was a block east of the Chautauqua grounds. Nathaniel died on July 20, 1928 about 7:40 AM. Funeral services were held in the ME Church conducted by Rev. Seifert, assisted by Rev. Olson of Bloomfield and Rev. Unruh of Retah; also participating was the Henry Hanson Post VFW.

Charity moved to Portland, Oregon, with her son Harry in 1930 and made her home with Harry and with Robert. She died of cancer on Mar. 29, 1932, in Portland, Ore. Harry accompanied her body back to Richey where she is buried beside her husband in the Richey Cemetery, Richey, Montana.

ROBERT GREGG

Robert finished grammar school in Brown County and then went to summer Normal School at Nashville, Indiana. He returned to teach a five month term at Cook School where he had two of Lot Gregg's family for students. Following this term, he enrolled for a commercial course at Valpariso University in northern Indiana. There he met Clara Louise Lien of Coon Valley, Wisconsin. Upon their marriage they moved westward to Rainier, Oregon, where Robert worked in a door and sash mill. After Mary was born, Robert moved his family to Portland where Ruth and Wesley were born. Robert started working for the Postal Department and continued until his retirement in June of 1949. Ruth died of scarlet fever when she was ten and soon was followed by her mother who died July 4, 1920 following an extended illness. Robert married Eva Fulwider, a schoolmate from Indiana, who died in 1932. In 1936 Robert and Hattie Lien McDonald were married by Rev. E. T. Luther a longtime family friend. Upon Robert's and Hattie's retirement, they made several cross country trips. They have been active in NARCE, Centenary Wilbur ME Church and IOOF.

The two story log house that Nathaniel built ca. 1886 as it looked when visited by his sons in 1960.

GREGG — BAILEY — STEPHENS

After her mother's death, Mary spent a year with her grandparents in Montana, and enjoyed riding a sway-back white horse to school and driving her grandfather's 1914 Ford over the prairies. After graduation from Jeff Hi, one year at Normal school, and teaching in one room schools Mary went to OAC. With a group from OAC Mary went to work at a resort in Richardson's Grove, Calif., where she met James Bailey, married him and they moved to Alameda, Calif. Jim's mother, Emily Hollingbery, was born in Kansas where her parents had come from England, and then they moved to Calif. where Emily met Jim's father who died before Jim was born in Alameda. Jim and his mother came through the San Francisco earthquake and fire, camped at Twin Peaks for two weeks and then went back to Alameda. Jim served two years in the Army WWI, married Dorothy McPeck, and divorced in 1928. Daughter Margery Bailey married James Mulkern and has two children Kevin '52 and Brian '53.

Emily Ann and James Bailey were both born in Alameda and with their parents moved to Los Altos. There Dad commuted to San Francisco to Shell Oil, retired, but during the war worked in Permanente Lab. which made magnesium bombs. Family moved to Saratoga where the two finished Los Gatos HS. James joined the Navy and after three and a half years was given a medical discharge due to Leukemia. He died in 1955. Mary went back to teaching. Emily Ann met Kenneth Stephens who was in the Navy and they were married in Saratoga. They have three children — the last born Apr. 19, 1963. Kenneth is in electronics.

GREGG — WARRAM

Wesley Gregg graduated from Jeff Hi in Portland and spent some years in eastern Montana. He worked on his Uncle Virgil's farm in South Valley, attended business school and worked in banks in Billings and Livingston. He returned to Portland to go to Reed College where he met Ellen Pitkanen. Ellen's parents though coming from Finland did not meet until in Portland where they were married and Ellen was born. Andrew operated furniture repair shops, and just before his death took a trip with Ellen to Finland. Wes and Ellen's four children all graduated from Cleveland High School. David is working, towards a college education. Ruth is a Junior in education at OSU and does counselling work in summer camps — Wind Mt. Girl Scouts and Trail Blazer Camps, New Jersey. Phil is a senior in the School of Science at OSU where he has been active in student government, and he has been a Management Intern in Washington, D.C. Susan graduated from Radcliffe College the same week her husband Jim received his MD from Harvard Medical School. Susan met Jim in Boston. Jim is the youngest of three children born to Ruth and Jim Warram who met while they were students in the U. of Arkansas. Jim Sr. has been an educator and is in educational publications and Ruth is a Latin and English High School teacher in Oklahoma City. One of Ruth's forebearers, John Clarke was a follower of Roger Williams. Ruth's father was a soldier in the Kansas 7th Cavalry under the command of Geo. Custer, and his captain was David L. Payne. They fought in the wars against the plains Indians.

VIRGIL GREGG

Virgil went to Montana in the spring of 1906 and worked on the irrigation ditch between Intake and Sidney. He went back to Indiana that fall to teach. In the spring of 1909 he came back to Montana and took a homestead, sec. 12-20-54, and also bought a relinquishment. That winter he taught school four miles west and five miles south of Bloomfield near Wm. Polings with whom he boarded. In the spring he planted flax on his homestead and in the spring of 1912 he broke up more sod and planted flax and wheat. In August there were two hail storms. The first took quite a bit of the crop, and the second one about finished it off. Virgil continued teaching school from 1910 through 1914, the last three years in South Valley. About 1910-1911 Harry, Virgil's brother, and Cecil Zody came and the three batched together in a shack. Cecil cooked and they bought their bread, a big round loaf for five cents, from Mrs. Eph Moore. Then Sister Mae and family took a homestead about nine miles northwest of Virgil's. In May of 1912 Fern came to keep house for her brother Harry Moore near Mae's place. Fern and Virgil met that July at the "Windmill Ranch." Fern taught the Mt. Pleasant school and rode a horse the five miles to get there. In Jan. of 1914 Fern and Virgil were married. As they increased their land holdings, they increased the amount of machinery. At first it was all horse drawn, sometimes twenty horses at a time. In 1916 they built a barn for the some twenty-six horses or more, and a shed for cattle with a haymow over all. Then they began to get tractors, binders and then self-propelled combines.

Virgil and Fern Gregg, early Dawson County, Montana, school teachers and pioneer homesteaders.

GREGG — KNOPH — KLEMPPEL

Virgil first had a two room shack; then he built a four bedroom two story house. The family grew to four girls and a boy. Then they added three rooms, put in a coal furnace and made a cistern with a pump in the house. In 1950 they built a modern house and moved the old house to Glendive where it was rented until the Highway came through. Virgil was active in the community. He was affiliated with the Farmer's Union Oil Co., Production Credit Corp., Grain Terminal Board in St. Paul and the REA board to mention a few. He died of cancer in Glendive.

In 1932 Elma graduated from Glendive HS and then went to Teacher's College in Billings. She taught independent school and home school; then went west to Portland with her daughter Joan in 1942 to work in the Oregon Shipyards. Attending Central Lutheran Church Elma met Paul Knoph who drove a weapons carrier over the Burma Road in WWII. In 1952 they adopted twin girls. Joan graduated from Pacific Lutheran College, was a United Air Lines Stewardess, taught in Calif. and Ore. schools and is now married to Jim Hedges who is a graduate of U. of Minnesota and served in the U. S. Navy.

Kathryn graduated from Glendive HS in 1937 and married Frank. They worked for Vaux caring for cattle in the hills south of Enid. They moved to South Valley where they bought land, built their home, and raised their family. Janice after HS went to Business College, was a Sec. in lawyer's office, married Duane and is now living in Colorado. Gordon upon graduation went to Boulder, Col., to work. Don is in HS and is helping on the ranch. Tommy and Alan are still in school and the family is active in South Valley Church.

Jean graduated from Glendive HS, and went to Teacher's College then taught school. Jean married Henry and until 1945 they farmed in the Bloomfield area. They moved to Bozeman, returned to the Knels place and then moved to farm at Belgrade. Their son Roger graduated from Montana State at Bozeman. He was selected for graduate training with the Air Force Institute of Technology and is studying at Wash. State at Pullman, Wash. Arlene upon graduation from Belgrade HS went to St. Paul Bible College and met and married Lloyd Edward who is an assistant pastor in a Free Methodist Church. Shirley, upon graduation, also went to St. Paul, but is now studying music at Wash. State U. The rest of the family are at home and going to school.

Raymond graduated from Glendive HS in 1944 and then helped his Dad on the farm. He had his own plane and there was a landing strip on the ranch. Ray went to Bob Jones College in S. Carolina. He enlisted in the army for three years, was in Anniston, Ala., and then was sent to Japan. Upon his return he married Eleanora, continued his education and graduated from Mont. State U. After several business ventures Ray is now in the insurance business.

Lois upon graduation from HS went to Bozeman to start her nurse's training, and then moved to Deaconess Hospital in Billings where she met Perry who worked in the office of Carter Oil. They were married, have four children, the four "Dees," and in 1955 they moved to South Valley to farm. They are active in the community and in South Valley Church.

John and Mae Lee with Carleton and Helen in front of their first house on their homestead in Montana.

THE JOHN LEE FAMILY

John Lee, the son of Joshua and Margaret Moore Lee, when a young boy came with the family to Brooklyn, Indiana, and spent his youth there. He met Mae Lee while he was employed by the local telephone co. and boarded at the Gregg home, where the telephone exchange was housed, and where Mae served as switchboard operator. Following their marriage John and Mae lived a brief time in Brooklyn, Indiana, and then in 1911 they moved westward to Retah, Montana, where they homesteaded. Their first home was a sod house. In 1926 they again moved westward to the Bitterroot Valley where they engaged in dairying and general farming. In 1931 the Lees moved to Oregon in the Tualitan Valley near Gaston. The next move was to Reedville and then to settle at Aloha. During the war years John and Mae both worked in the shipyards in Portland. John died in 1961 and is buried in Skyline Memorial Gardens, Portland. Mae is living in the Aloha home with her son Lorenzo. During his high school days, Lorenzo played basketball. Lorenzo graduated from High School, served in the Navy, and was given a medical discharge following his participation in WWII in the South Pacific.

Margaret finished HS and upon Darrel's return from WWII where he was a prisoner of war in Germany, they were married. They have two daughters. Their hobbies are bowling, fishing and hunting. Margaret is working in Girl Scouts.

CARLETON'S STORY IN HIS OWN WORDS

"Our family moved westward in 1909 to a homestead on the Retah Table. A Mr. and Mrs. Ward ran a post office and a little store on their farm. Mrs. Ward was a midwife and she brought two of my sisters into the world. Received all of my schooling in a little one room school called the Divide School with forty some other children. We again moved westward to the Bitterroot Valley where we for a few years milked cows. I was eighteen years old when I saw my first fruit and pine trees. Again we moved westward to Gaston, Oregon, where we rode out the hard times doing farming and working on farms. In 1933 I was married to Louise. During the war we worked in the Oregon shipyards. Then I started working in the lumber industry — in the logging and saw mills. In spring of 1957 we moved to Weitehpec, Calif., to work as a Bull Cook, the same as caretaker of the camp. In 1960 moved with the same outfit to Sitka, Alaska, where there are only the mountains and the water. The only travel is by air or boat. Rodney is with us in Alaska. Melvin is married and living in Hillsboro, Ore., and Carleen is married and living with her family near Hillsboro, Ore."

BERYL AND CHARLES CALLAHAN

Beryl married Charles Callahan and they have lived in the Forest Grove area. Beryl was an overhead crane operator in the shipyards during the War. Charles was a rigger lead man in the shipyards. After the war work was over Charles went into the logging business. The family then moved to Myrtle Creek where Charles had a "Gyppo" logging operation. (An independent operator supplying one mill with logs.) George is in High School and has shown stock for 4H competition. Virginia and Bob Arnold who is an OSU graduate are now in Guam where Bob is with the Navy. They have gone through several big storms — most notable was the big blow in October, '62. Jean and Dale were married as soon as Jean graduated from High School, and they have been living in the Aurora area and are now moving to Forest Grove. Marion and Bob Powers spent their first years on the OSU campus where Bob received his degree. They moved to Myrtle Creek where Bob is with a lumber company. All of the Callahans have been active in the IOOF program.

HELEN'S FAMILY

After Johnny, who was a logger, died quite suddenly with a heart attack, Helen married Del Potter and they have made their home at the Coast. Del is a golf course caretaker. Helen's son Harold served four years in the Navy, mostly in the Polar regions. Violet and Sharon are both married and live with their families in the Portland-Beaverton area.

CLARA'S FAMILY

Clara has worked most of the time, but is now caring for her son's five children while he is serving in the Navy. Clara's husband is working for an adhesives company. Douglas, her son, is with the West Coast Telephone Company of Beaverton and is raising his family there.

Harry Otis and Harriet Walker Gregg's wedding portrait shows the styles of the day.

HARRY GREGG

Harry, the youngest in Nat's family, received his education in Brown County, Indiana. When he was a young man, he went west to Montana where he joined in the homesteading along with his brother Virgil and sister Mae. Soon his parents came west, and he lived with them. He met Harriet Walker and married her. They purchased a half-section of land and made their first home there. They then moved westward to Portland where they raised their family of three boys and three girls. During WWII Harry worked for Willamette Iron & Steel shipbuilders. Four of his family saw service in the war. Marie was a Spar in the Coast Guard. Eldon was in the Heavy Artillery in the Asiatic Theater stationed in the Phillipines. He is now with Shell Oil. Cecil was in the National Guard when war was declared and NG's 1st assignment was to guard California coastline. Cecil was then assigned to the Artillery in Patton's army and was a foreward artillery observer at the bombing of Brest. Carl served in the European theater first in Aviation Engineers Firefighters, crash crew at air base. Carl then went to Infantry OCS at Fontainebleau, France. In earlier wars Napoleon used the castle for quartering his cavalry; the Germans then used the barracks; and now Allied Forces were occupying the castle. Getting his commission in '45 Carl then was in Stenay, WWI battle field, where the shipping of German prisoners of war to Russians in box cars was done. Cecil and Carl are now with the fire dept. Opal is at home, Virginia after HS worked in Post Office then for Carnation Milk Co. She married Harold who spent his early years in Olympia, Wash. He was with U. S. Army Signal Corps in Alaska and the Aleutians and is now with Federal Aviation Agency. All except Marie's family in Portland.

GREGG-ELY

Marie Gregg graduated from Washington High School. In WWII she was a Spar in the Coast Guard where she met Bill Ely. After a whirlwind courtship they were married and have made their home in Ann Arbor, Mich., where Bill is a manufacturer's representative.

Bill's father was Dr. William E. Ely who died at Parkersburg, Dec. 29, 1941. He was the first permanent practitioner of Osteopathy in the state of West Virginia; and his zeal for the cause had a telling effect. He was one of the tall trees of the forest, and had the integrity and the courage to stand against the storm of prejudice and unbelief until he was able to prove the merits of his system, and establish a veritable bulwark for those who were to follow.

Dr. Ely was born on a farm in Adair Co., Mo., in 1863 during the strife of the Civil War. In 1898 he was a member of the sixth graduating class of the School of Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo., which was founded in 1892. In the same class was Anna Lucy Kibler whom he married and with whom he set up his practice in Parkersburg. They had a girl who died when she was three. After the death of Anna, Dr. Ely married Louise R. Greiner of Wisconsin who had come to Parkersburg as a teacher in the Mountain State Business College. They had two sons William and Paul. Mrs. Ely was raised in Ann Arbor and after graduation from Ann Arbor HS she attended Gregg Stenographic Institute in Ann Arbor and Gregg College in Chicago. She died Jan., 1963 in Parkersburg.

The following is taken from Nathaniel's personal affidavit for Army pension.

"I joined the regular Army in Wheeling, West Virginia, on Oct. 31, 1871. Was sent to Newport Barracks, Kentucky. From here to Salt Lake City, Utah, and was assigned to Company F 13 U. S. Infantry.

Was held at Salt Lake City for two years and six months. My company was sent from here to Fort Fred Steele, Wyoming. From here to Red Cloud Agency and was held here seven months. From here we were sent to New Orleans, Louisiana. Here I was detailed on extra duty at Depot Quartermaster, and my company sent to Mississippi in the spring of 1875. In July 1876 I was sent to Fort Jackson and Saint Philip to help remove a lot of shot, shell and cannon. This being in a swamp I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and developed into bronchitis from which I never recovered. From here I was sent back to New Orleans and finished my term of enlistment here, being honorably discharged on October 3, 1876.

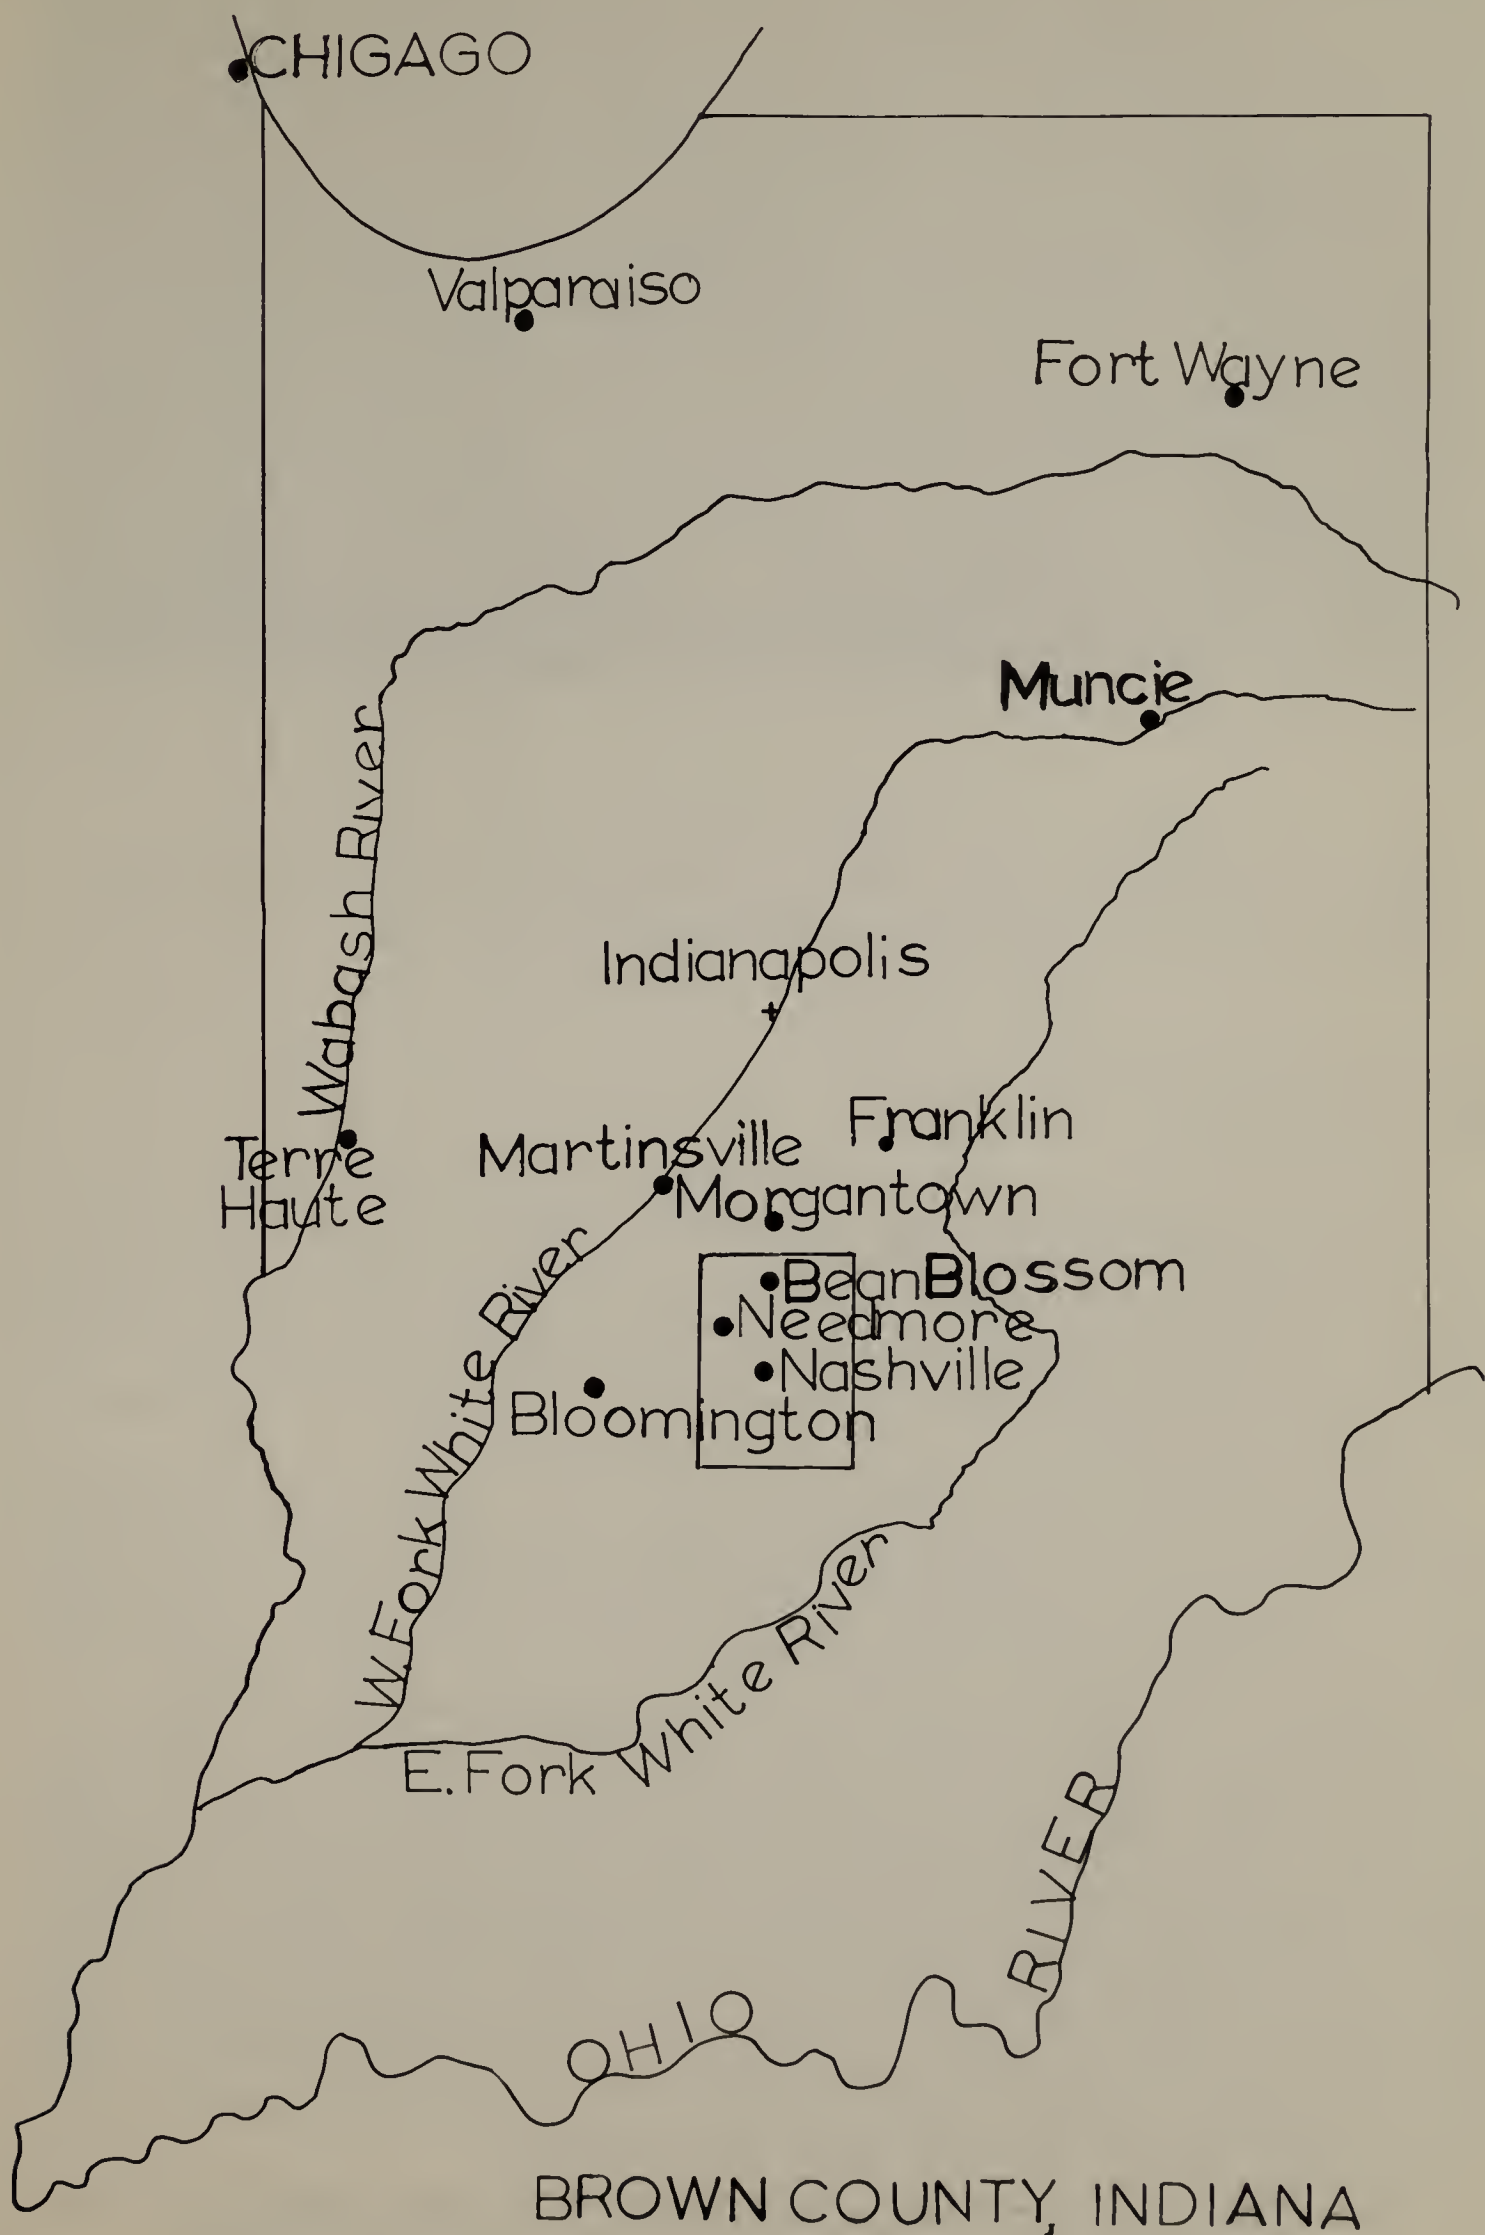

My being away from my company at the time I was discharged, none of my comrades knew of my condition at that time. Being anxious to go home I did not go to the hospital as I should have, but went to some of my relatives. Whose affidavits I have to prove my condition."

Signed: N. M. Gregg

"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue and if there be any praise, think on these things."

THE SQUIRES

Wesley and Geniza Poling Squires lived a mile and a half south of the Bean Blossom Creek at Needmore, Ind. They had migrated there from West Virginia about 1862. Grandma Squires told how she had carried the money for the new land on the long trip on the train. The grandchildren loved to hear her tell how all $1200 was carried in a belt around her waist.

Grandpa soon had a large log cabin with an immense fireplace built at the west end of the large room. Grandma was of the Poling family and they all pitched in and helped with the building. The cabin was near a fine spring. Wesley built a nice frame house near a road running west to Needmore which house is still used as a home.

The Nathaniel Gregg boys would sometimes go to see the grandparents about seven miles up hill and down, through timber mostly and along cow paths across the farms. Once they ran into a newly hatched nest of very white birds in a decayed log. They were buzzards. When the boys would get there they would get a great welcome. By now Grandpa Wesley had his own apples, peaches, plums, and many other fruits growing on his farm. On one trip when the boys were visiting, grandpa had a horse power machine thrashing his wheat crop. He had farmed with oxen at first.

The Squires were active in the Methodist Church and their home was the center of the community activities and social affairs.

"If a man empties his purse into his head, no one can take it from him."

THE POTTER FAMILY

Samuel Potter was born in Belmont Co., Ohio, and in 1862 came with his parents in a covered wagon to Brown Co., Ind. In 1873 he married Mary Elizabeth Squires, and they were blessed with nine children. In 1890 Sammy and Mary with their five children came to Morgan Co. to make their home. This was done because neighbors had come earlier and sent word back to the "Potters" that a good opportunity was in store for them here; so they likewise came. They were very poor, hardly enough to eat and wear. Very little was purchased from the store, only coffee, sugar and baking powder, for there was no money with which to buy. The wheat and corn were taken to the mill to be ground into meal and flour. As no one in the family had any money, they also worked even for a few cents a day. Sammy finally saved enough to buy 20 A. of swamp land with some hills and enough high ground to build a house and barn. The land was cleared and the trees used for lumber for the buildings and for fuel. The stumps were grubbed and the land tiled; and very good crops and gardens were grown. Some of the land was used for pasture for their horses, cows, hogs and chickens. In 1925 Sammy sold the farm to his youngest daughter and moved into Paragon. He then drove one of the first school busses going to Paragon Grade School. Mary died in 1936 at the age of 81. An event Sammy seldom missed was the "Old Settlers Picnic" held in Brown Co. the last Saturday in August. Sammy died age 95 years on the same day his grandson George Potter died. Sammy and Mary are buried in Friendship Park Cemetery at Paragon.

THE WESLEY POTTER FAMILY

Wess with his younger brothers and sisters had very little of the worldly goods and living was very hard. Wess loved to build and construct things with which to play. As trees were of no value then, they would cut one down, saw wheels from a log, use the limbs for the frame and make a wagon or make sleds — anything to play with — and when not tilling the soil, this would pass the time of day. He had a very meager education in schools, but a great education in the fields of learning the hard way. Wess grew up in a Christian home and belonged to the Whitaker Methodist Church. When Wess heard about the opportunities in the coal mines, he went to West Virginia to work. While there he met Zana Ice and he brought his bride back to Indianapolis where he took up carpenter and construction work. For a time he operated a saw mill, then a gravel operation, and then he went back to carpenter work which he did until he was 80 and no longer able to climb to any height. Zana was an invalid from strokes so Wess had a double responsibility in raising his family. After Zana's death he married Ethel Lanfair.

Esther had the responsibility of caring for her invalid mother so only had one year at Indiana U. In 1937 she visited the Blankenships in Canada and met a Canadian wheat farmer, Harry Boade, whom she married. George Potter worked closely with his father, Wess; married Hazel. He died of cancer leaving Hazel with the task of raising the family. She worked as a comptometer operator. Virginia married Orzo Brown, who was a mail carrier; then became a farmer. They had six children. Virginia was active in the Samaria Baptist Church.

INA BELLE POTTER SINK

Ina was the oldest girl of Sammy and Mary so to her fell responsibility of helping with the home work, younger brothers and sisters and even helping in the fields. This didn't give her much time for school so she didn't even get a grade school education. Ina married Curt Sink and they had nine children. Curt gave up farming and went to work for A. J. Sanders Saw Mill at Whitaker and worked there for a number of years. Ina and Curt worked hard to give their children the education that they didn't get. Curt died in 1950 and Ina continued to live in their home surrounded by her friends. She attends Paragon Baptist Church, reads without glasses, does her own work, and each spring gets out in her garden. Letha the eldest of Ina's family, married Columbus Brown, who dropped dead at his work unloading logs from a flat car. After working in the Real Silk Hosiery Co. Letha married Frederick Wright and they had two daughters. Later they were divorced. Letha married Walter Hook who died while fighting a fire as a volunteer fire fighter. Most of her family live in the Indianapolis area. Ruth Sink married Orville Davis who was a WWI veteran and is now retired from Allison's General Motors Division. They are members of Indianapolis Baptist Temple. Dorothy Sink married Merle who was active in semi-professional baseball and in the garage business. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and Baptist Church. He died of a heart attack and is buried in Friendship Park Cemetery. Dorothy is now married to Clarence Smith, who served in the Navy, is a professional musician, and is now photo engraver for "The Indianapolis Times".

THE SINK FAMILY

Archie Sink worked for a heavy road equipment builders, then at a saw mill, and then to R. P. Mallory Co. His wife, Bessie, works as a private secretary for Real Silk and they have four children. Ronald was in the Army and spent several months in Korea. He married Patricia Perry and works for a dairy. Michael served in the Army in the U.S.A. and the two girls are at home.

Eunice Sink enjoyed the out-of-doors and played basketball on the company's team when she worked for Real Silk. Her husband, Luther Pope, is a carpenter and cabinet maker. Howard worked at Bixby's Shoe Polish factory where he met his wife. Wilma Sink, after high school, worked, married and later divorced Ralph Fisher. She worked at Eli Lilly's until she married Kenneth Warthan, who teaches school at Kokomo. Samuel served in the Coast Guard and has worked for RCA for twenty-three years in all.

CLAUDE POTTER

Claude, the third Potter child, helped his father with the farm work and later farmed for himself and then owned a General Store in Paragon for 34 years. His son, Robert, by his second wife, helped Claude in the operation of his gas and oil business until Claude was incapacitated by the loss of his leg. Claude's son Ralph, after HS went on the DePauw U. at Greencastle, where he received his AB then on to get his MA degree at Indiana U. While teaching at Gosport he had a young student in his English class with whom he fell in love, and later married. After their marriage they both taught school. In 1955 Pauline died, leaving Ralph with two young daughters. He then married Eleanor Crum. Nancy is studying to be a nurse and Cynthia wants to be a teacher. Robert Potter helped his Dad and after his marriage to Louise Coffman, he changed his way of life. After much study he took up the ministry. In 1950 in Martinsville he started to build a church, the "Emanuel Apostolic Church" which has continued to grow. They are making a home for their family and Robert's mother, Arminto Lingle Potter.

BESSIE POTTER ALEXANDER

Bessie came from Brown Co. near Nashville with her family at the age of seven and attended the same school with Millard, whom she married. Millard farmed and worked in the saw mill. They belonged to the Methodist Church and had a family of five children. Clarence worked with his Dad in the saw mill. After marrying June he worked at raising flowers; then went to Paragon where they had a store and restaurant. His health failing, Clarence continued on with only the store. Their daughter Phyllis, who is a private secretary, married Donald who works for a hardware store. Mildred helped her mother, Bessie, who cooked for boarders, and then cooked the noon meal for the saw mill men. Mildred married Clyde, an orphan raised by Mildred's aunt and uncle, who ran a grocery store. After the foster parents' death, Clyde ran the store until supermarkets took over the trade. Edward farmed, worked in the saw mill, and worked in the grocery store. He married Mildred Warthan and now works for Fisher Body Plant. Melsa, their daughter, married Gene, a schoolmate, and he too is working for Fisher Body plant. The Alexander twins lived only a few hours after their birth, Dec. 11, 1911.

Andrew tried his hand at several different jobs; farming, working in the grocery store, selling groceries from a wagon, working in Canada with his wife, Glenn, cooking for the harvest hands, working in the gravel pit and doing janitorial work. Irene, their oldest child, is a teacher and went on to earn her Masters degree. She is married to Robert Moore, who, with his mother, operated a five and dime store. Henry went to Indian Central after high school and then on to Baseball school for 4 months at Hot Springs, Ark. He went on to teaching and coaching high school teams. After his marriage to Harriet, he went into insurance selling. Frances received her education and went on to teaching. She married Harry Burnett, whose father is a grain farmer and also raises Black Angus cattle. They make their home with Harry's father. Their son, Bruce, has won several ribbons in 4H competition with his Black Angus calves. Andrew died April 22, 1963 at 5:00 o'clock. He died in his own back yard of a heart attack and is buried in Friendship Park Cemetery.

BLANKENSHIPS

James was born in Indiana, went to Paragon High School and to DePauw U. He worked as a teacher, was in the hardware business, and was a railroad fireman. After his marriage to Jeniza they moved to Saskatchewan, Canada, where they had a wheat and cattle ranch from 1919 to 1946. They had farmed for two years in Iowa. He was a semi-retired cattle appraiser when he died. Jeniza was a teacher for seven years. Their interests were the church and the hospital. "Father was a very warm humorous man — terrible practical joker who fortunately could take it. Mother, even though she was 41 when the youngest child was born, never seemed old to her girls. She was able to play games with them until they were quite good sized girls." James and Jeniza died in an auto accident near Martinsville.

Elizabeth Ann attended high school in Imperial, Sask., Canada, and had one year in the Jordon Conservatory of Music, also one year at U. of Sask. She married Al Harper, who had attended Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Ia. and DDS from University of Nebraska. He was in the Army '43-'45 and Navy '45-'47. His father A. S. Harper, Sr., is also a dentist. Marialice attended U. of Sask. and taught Home Ec before her marriage to James G. Norris, who attended Wigar University, Manchester University, England. He was a RAF pilot in WWII. He is a chemist and is an avid sports car enthusiast. Grace attended Purdue University and is a teacher. Her husband, William Lear, attended Purdue U., served in the U. S. Navy and is an engineer. Their son, William Lear, born April 20, 1963, at Gardena, California, has the distinction of being the youngest person recorded in "Gregg's Westward".

"I shall pass this way but once. Any good thing therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show, let me do it now. Let me not defer it or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

ETHEL POTTER ANDERSON

Ethel, finishing HS in 1911, went to Danville College and then taught in one room schools that had all eight grades. She married Pearl, who was a Pennsylvania RR fireman. He farmed until called back to railroading during the war where he remained until retirement. James, the eldest of six children, earned three degrees from Indiana U. and his PHD from U. of Maryland; served in the South Pacific Theater with the Navy '42-'45, and is now with U. of Florida, head professor of Geography. This spring he was sent to Italy for Dept. of Agriculture. He is affiliated with several scientific and honorary societies. Naomi Ruth, after high school, worked for RCA and then went to work as a Dr.'s assistant. Her husband, who had been a classmate before serving in WWII is now an office manager for an insurance company. Herbert went to Franklin College after HS and then went to work for Kingan Meat Packing Co. where he met his wife and where he is now a Dept. foreman. Max after HS worked for Kingan's and then enlisted in the Army and was sent to Seoul, Korea. Upon his return Max went back to Kingan's. Maxine, Max's twin, attended Johnson Bible College after HS. After college she went to visit her brother James and his family in College Park, Md., where she met Bob who had graduated from McKinley Tech HS in Washington, D.C. He served in U. S. Air Force during the Korean War. He is presently self-employed as an Interior Decorator.

SQUIRES — MILLER — KNIGHT

Hessie married Luther Miller who was a brother to Aretus Miller who had married Hannah Dora McCabe. Luther died at the age of thirty-six. They had two daughters, Mabel Clare, who died in infancy and Maude Miller who married Jacob Hawley, a schoolmate sweetheart. Their farm was on Howard Ridge near Bloomington, Ind. The Hawleys had three children. Mabel Clare married a teacher in the Paragon schools and he was also noted for homes he built. Mabel is teaching and has one of the Monte Brown girls in her class. Ruth was a registered nurse and served in the country round about. After her death, Maude is caring for the family at present. Leonard is a supervisor in the Indiana school system. In 1934 Maude married Alonzo Knight who had spent most of his life in the vicinity of Morgantown. He was a good farmer as well as an exacting country school teacher. He served as township trustee and also as County Auditor. His son Russell Knight by a previous marriage, was a farmer, merchant, cream station operator, poultry buyer, telephone exchange manager and served in the U. S. Army for one year. For the past twenty years he has worked for a food processing plant in Trafalgar, Ind. His wife, Jane, is a homemaker and a practical nurse.

CLARA & WILL POLING

Clara and her husband Will Poling lived on their homestead near Bloomfield until 1924 when they moved to Glendive. They were active in the Methodist Church. Aunt Clara will be long remembered by the kinfolk and friends in eastern Montana for her generous hospitality.

MELISSA LEAR

Lissa stayed and helped at home after grammar school. She met Will Lear and after they were married they made their home on a farm near Tuscola, Illinois, where they raised their family. After Will died Lissa stayed with her son Ralph and his wife Hazel, until Hazel was needed to care for her mother, who was an invalid for eleven years. At that time Lissa stayed with Lenore and Paul Anders in Lakewood, Ohio. Ralph first had a dairy farm, then became a rural mail carrier until retirement due to ill health. Hazel and Ralph had attended the same high school, and before their marriage Hazel was a bank clerk. She devoted her time in raising her two boys: William is an engineer working in the space program. The youngest child recorded in Gregg's Westward is his son, William Lear, born April 20, 1963. Jim is with the Welfare Dept. of State of Illinois. Lenore went to HS in Tuscola and then prepared for teaching. Later on she taught English in High School in Lakewood, Ohio. She married Paul Anders who was Dean of Students at Fenn College, Cleveland, and who later became administrator of School of Business at Fenn. They also have two boys, Rick a librarian and Robert.

Lenore and Paul are planning to retire from the teaching profession in June of '64. Lissa's third child was William, who became a CPA in California. His wife, Helen, works with him. Their son Charles, is working in space research and their daughter Katharyn is at home.

ASA AND DESSIE SQUIRES

Asa and family spent a few years on the farms of Brown County, Indiana. About 1910 Asa homesteaded near Bloomfield, Montana. He later moved west to Stevensville, Montana. After his death, Dessie lived in Glendive. Their son Ralph is a rancher and lives in Glendive with his family. They are members of Our Savior's Lutheran Church. Leslie died in an auto accident. Jimmie, their second son, is a student at Montana State U. majoring in Math. Sandra Kay is attending Eastern College of Education, Billings, and is majoring in English. Susan is in grade school.

After Junius' death, Ruth Squires Waters stayed on the farm until 1943. She sold the farm and moved to Glendive where she worked to educate her two children, Bob and Marian. In Bozeman she operated a beauty shop till 1952 when she moved back to Glendive and she bought a "ready-to-wear" shop which she has built up to be one of the leading women's ready-to-wear shop in eastern Montana. Marian and her husband live in Bozeman where Ralph teaches engineering at Montana State College. Marian is active in the Methodist Church. Bob Waters lives in Glendive with his family. He is with the Bulk Plant Dist. and service station. He has served as City Alderman for Glendive '59-'63.

Bill (William) Squires lives on the old home place in the Bitter-root Valley. His son is in the service in Germany. Mary lives at Florence and Margaret lives near Stevensville. Glenn and his family will be making their home in North Dakota. Paul Squires was injured in an auto accident from which he did not recover.

THE FAMILY TREE

I think that I shall never see
The finish of a Family Tree.
As it forever seems to grow
From roots that started very low;
'Way back in ancient history times,
In foreign lands and distant climes.
From them grew trunk and branching limb,
That dated back to time so dim,
One seldom knows exactly when
The parents met and married then.
Nor when the twigs began to grow
With odd named children, row on row.
'Though a verse like this is made by me,
And the end's in sight as you can see;
'Tis not the same with Family Trees
That grow and grow through centuries.

Coon Valley Families

Coon Valley, Wisc., with Lutheran Church and cemetery in foreground and farms in background, November, 1941.

Coon Valley, Wisconsin

In 1853 the Norwegian Lutheran Church was organized in Coon Valley. In 1859 the log church was started and dedicated in 1863. The first pastors to visit the church were Pastor Clausen and Brandt. Pastors Stub, Preus and Halvorson served the Coon Valley Church together with the Coon Prairie Church. In 1874 the parish was divided and Pastor A. S. Meling was called to serve the Coon Valley church until 1882. In 1876 the present church was built. The following pastors served the congregation: E. Jensen, H. Roalkvam, O. Sovde, O. J. Hylland, J. O. Bach, A. I. Kvamme, L. L. Masted and H. T. Masted.

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy mind — Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

— St. Matthew, 22:37 & 39

O. J. LIEN

Ole J. Lien came with his parents to Coon Valley in 1856. They settled on a one hundred sixty acre farm in Vernon County, Wisconsin. He spent his adult life as a dairy farmer on the original farm. He married Haege Rundahl and they had three children. Haege died at the birth of a child that died at birth. He married Otilie Olstad, by whom he had eight children. Ole served as a Justice of the Peace for the Town of Coon, was a member of the school board in Coon Valley, and was a County Commissioner of Vernon County. He retired from farming in 1917 and sold his farm to his son-in-law Chris Madsen and the Liens moved to LaCrosse. He subdivided ten to fifteen acres of the farm which became Lien's Addition to Coon Valley. Ole Lien and his wife are buried near the northwest entrance to the Coon Valley Cemetery.

Joseph Lien, the oldest child, graduated from the Coon Valley public school and then attended Viroqua HS for two years. He taught school in the Coon Valley area for four years and then became a student at Valporiso University from 1900 to 1905. He then became dean of the department of Foreign students and subsequently became Professor in the Chemistry Dept. and was fondly referred to by the students as "The Little Old Man of the Campus". The 1939 Annual was dedicated to him. He had dedicated his life to education. He is buried in the Valporiso, Indiana, Cemetery.

Oliver Lien graduated from "Valpo" with a degree in pharmacy and metallurgy. He met his wife at "Valpo". Oliver was head chemist for Illinois Malleable and Casting Co. for twenty years. Longing for a quiet life, Oliver moved his family to an eighty acre neglected farm near Constantine, Mich., where he pioneered a Christmas tree farm in 1928. He lived the rest of his life on the tree farm until his death on Christmas Eve of 1960. Elsie Lien enlisted as an Army Nurse in 1942 and served in WWII and in a Mobile Hospital Unit directly behind the lines in the Korean conflict. Elsie while at Madigan at Fort Lewis, Washington, attended Pacific Lutheran College where she earned a degree. She retired as a Major in the Army Nurse Corp in 1962. She married Les Demorest, a widower with three children, and they are now making their home in Dearborn, Mich.

Oliver Lien, Jr. served in the U. S. Navy 1943-46 and 1952-54. He received his PHD from the University of California at Berkeley in Biological Chemistry. He is now teaching chemistry in San Jose State College. His hobbies include photography, gardening and piano tuning. "Dee" his wife received her degree in Home Economics from Mich. State College. Margaret Lien Plevak is a graduate of Kalamazoo Teachers' College and is now teaching at the Junior High level.

Clara Lien was a student at Valporiso where she met Robert Gregg. Upon their marriage they moved to Oregon. Clara was active in church work until her illness. After a prolonged illness Clara died on a Sunday, July 4th.

Ole and Otille Lien. Early Norwegian pioneers that came to settle in Coon Valley, Wisconsin.

OLGA LIEN MADSEN

Olga the eldest of Ole and Otille's eight children married Chris Madsen and they had seven children. After Chris died, Olga operated a store and oil station at Angelo near Camp McCoy. During WWII she had a laundry for the officers at the camp. She also operated a Root Beer and Hamburger Stand in Angelo. She also rented out cabins and trailer space. She died in May 1952 following a trip to the West coast.

Curtis, Olga's eldest, was the fourth generation on the original 160 A. Lien dairy farm. He died at thirty years of age.

Ernest attended LaCrosse State Teacher's College. His career as U. S. Government employee started in 1936 in the Wisconsin State office of the USDA-AAA in Madison, Wis. He served two and one half years in WWII in Army Engineers. He is presently Chief of the Aerial Photography Branch of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of USDA. Hobby is art. Son Ernest Louis Madsen has a degree from U. of Maryland, 1959.

Bernetta and Stanley Peterson have a dairy farm in Coon Valley and also grow tobacco. Bernetta is church organist, SS teacher and is active in women's church work. Stanley Arvid lives nearby with his family. Kathryn lived in Georgia. Susan a graduate of Westby HS and LaCrosse Teachers' College is married and is now teaching. Stuart enlisted in the Army.

Olive and Tip are members of the Lutheran church and have operated stores and eating spots. Their son and his wife Myrt are graduates of Luther College. Myrt is teaching and Bill is with J. C. Penney Company.

THE MADSENS

Milton, Olga's fifth child, graduated from Wisconsin State College at Stevens-Point in 1950. He was in the Army from Dec. '39 to Sept. '45. He is now a Case Supervisor of Vocational and Adult Education, State of Wisconsin. His hobbies are fishing and hunting. Marie, his wife, is a sister of Donald Slayton of Sparta, who was one of the original seven astronauts chosen for the Mercury Project. Stanley who graduated from Sparta HS served in the Army for 3-1/2 years in the 11th Armoured Division 3rd Army-European Theater, and was wounded in action. After the war he worked for a company and after three years saw no future so he started his own business. His quote: "There are lots of opportunities in this country if the people have the initiative and 'know-how'".

Donald the youngest Madsen, is a travelling art teacher in a consolidated school district. He enjoys it as much as a person can who is that close to his hobby in his vocation. Quoting from a letter, "Mother is still pursuing her BS and her spirited last born. The children are thriving in their search for knowledge and fulfillment as social beings. A word ought to be inserted here for the joys of living in a community of some 450 souls, that is, we seem to have found a formula for living that has enriched our lives beyond anything that the big city ever offered. We have been living in Cottage Grove in a large old house that we did over last year and enjoying family living in the spacious old fashioned way. This stuff about "Togetherness" leaves something to be desired in "apartness" and "privacy". We find two stories and space do much to deaden the noises of our gregarious three who seem to have a deadly facility to multiply into nine at every opportunity."

LIEN FAMILY

Hattie was graduated from Viroqua HS in 1911 and from Valpo U. in 1915 with a BS. She taught Science and Math in South Dakota for four years — in Salem, Ore., for two years, and at Bowie, Arizona. From Havana, Ill., Hattie went to Chicago where she taught for sixteen years till her retirement in 1939. In 1936 she married Robert Gregg and moved to Portland in '39. She did substitute teaching in the public schools during WWII.

Alvin has a dairy farm in Coon Valley where he and his wife Mabel are still farming. He sells hybrid seed corn as well. Their only son Arthur M. Lien enlisted in the Army Air Corps in July 1940. He graduated from Advance Flying School at Kelly Field, Texas, in Sept. 1942. He flew in the European Theater '43-'44, completing 70 bomber missions. He flew 74 combat missions in jet aircraft in the Korean conflict. He attended the Armed Forces Staff College and Industrial College of the Armed Forces, and is now assigned to the Pentagon. He holds the rank of Colonel. His family has taken all the transient living in stride and have maintained contact with the Lutheran church background of the family. John is attending U. of Wis.

Arthur Marvin Lien served in France WWI. He enlisted while a student at Valpo in 1917. He died in Portland and is buried in the Coon Valley Cemetery.

Stella was graduated from LaCrosse Hi and Teachers College. She received her degree from the U. of Chicago. She taught school in Sioux Falls, S. D., Racine, Wis., and then came to Chicago in 1928 where she had taught up to the present date. Her hobby is traveling.

LIEN FAMILY

Ozzie and Erma Lien live in Dover, Minn., where Ozzie has an area which he supplies the housewives and farmers with Watkins products. He is a natural salesman and has had his own general stores and also managed a Jewel Tea Store.

Ora, Ozzie's twin, lives with her husband Paul in Wilmington, Delaware. Ora is a 1926 graduate nurse from West Suburban Hospital in Oak Park, Ill. She did private duty for four years before her marriage. Her husband Paul is with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., and he is a member of the Million Dollar Club. Their daughter Jean attended U. of Delaware and business college. Her husband attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y. and is a chemical engineer with DuPont. Peter Paul their son attended U. of Delaware and U. of Cincinnati, in Ohio. He is an insurance and stock broker now living in California.

John Einer, the youngest of the Liens graduated from LaCrosse High and Lewis Institute in Chicago, Ill., with a degree in Mechanical Engineering. He was a technician with American Heating and Ventilating Co. He died an untimely death beginning with an ulcerated tooth. He is buried in Coon Valley Cemetery.

THE RUNDAHL FAMILY

Ole Knutson Rundahl was born on the Rundahl Farm, Laursdal's parish, Upper Telemarken, Norway. He married Gunild Reffelbeck who was born in the same parish. They emigrated to America the 23rd of April with three children with one child dying during the crossing. The voyage took eleven weeks. They came to New York and then went up the Hudson River to Albany by boat. From there they took a canal boat to Lake Erie and then across the lakes to Milwaukee. From there with the oxen and "kubberulle" to Koshkonong. They had enough provisions to last them the trip. Ole bought some land at Koshkonong and lived there two years. In 1856 he moved on to Coon Valley where he lived until his death. In 1928 this farm had been in the same family's possession for over seventy years. This valley later became known as the Rundahl Valley. Ole was a charter member of the Coon Valley congregation and took an active part in the work of the church. He was also a painter and blacksmith.

Anne Rundahl emigrated with her parents to America. In 1880 she and her husband settled in Glenwood, Pope Co., Minn. Emelia, the eldest girl married a cousin Even Reirsrud and lived at Starbuck, Minn. Elise went to Montana to homestead and married Alfred Hanson. At her death Alfred's brother brought the family back to Wisconsin.

"All wish to be learned, but no one is willing to pay the price."

RUNDAHL FAMILY

Jaran Knutson Rundahl was born in America and came to Coon Valley with his parents who settled in Town of Coon on Section 8 in 1856. Jaran became owner of 436 acres. He was president of the Coon Valley Farmer's Telephone Co., school clerk, and trustee in the church. Jaran and his wife Ingeborg had six children.

Jaran's son Obert bought the Rundahl farm in 1918 which he farmed until 1941 when he rented it out. In 1948 he received his "Century Certificate" and in 1955 his "Farm Century Certificate".

Ida Rundahl has taken an active part in the work of the Upper Coon Valley Church. Her husband, Syrin, operated a butcher shop in Coon Valley a number of years, farmed and has done carpenter work. He received a patent on an automatic feeding cart.

Henry is now retired and lives with his wife Bessie in Coon Valley. Henry attended the business college at Viroqua and also Valporiso U. Amy finished high school and married Walter who served in WWII, farmed at Chaseburg, Wis., and is now employed in Fla. Ida finished high school and normal school, and then taught school for four years. She entered the service of the U. S. and taught as a Radio Instructor at Truax Field at Madison. She was transferred to the U. of Colorado from which she graduated and was assigned to the Draftsmanship Dept. at Convair Air Craft at San Diego. After attending U. of Cal., Ida taught school. She married Charles who was in the Marines for four years. He is now an inspector with the Water Dept. of San Diego. Hazel also completed her teacher's education and taught school for six years until her marriage to Kenneth. He had served in the Far East sector in WWII and is now farming in Monroe Co., Wis. Jaran Henry's only son finished HS and is farming the same farm where he was born. He serves as Chairman for the Town of Grenfield, Wis.

Hilda had one year of high school, two years at Vernon County Normal and taught school from 1910 to 1916. After she was widowed in 1925 she kept house for brother Alton on his farm. In 1945 they moved to Coon Valley. Helen who graduated from LaCrosse HS and had been a telephone operator, died in childbirth. Esther graduated from Westby HS, had one year at Normal school and one year at Vocational, both in LaCrosse. She worked in Civil Service and married Ralph Leum who after high school served three years in the Army in the Hawaiian Islands and is now electrician for the city of Westby. Lillian, after attending Westby HS and LaCrosse Teacher's College, is teaching. Her husband, Otis, always has been a farmer and now has the "home place", which has been in the Leum family for more than a century. He received his "Century Certificate" in 1962.

Alton farmed the home farm and then moved to a farm at North Ridge. He helped his widowed sister Hilda raise her three girls. Upon injuring his back he retired and they all moved to Coon Valley.

Cora Rundahl made her home with her brother Obert until his death. She has served on School Board, taught in Parochial and Sunday School, and has been active in church work. Cora, for the past sixteen years, has operated a Tourist Home.

THE OLSTAD FAMILY

Anders emigrated to America in 1872 and settled on Section 10 Town of Coon where some time later he owned 160 A. Anton bought this farm from his mother in 1896. His son Alf now farms the 137 A. 35 A. are in crops: hay, corn, grain and tobacco. 52 A. are fenced in woodland and the rest is pasture, wasteland, including the creek, railroad track that came through in 1903, plus the Bell Telephone long distance line built in 1929. Hilma is active in her church.

John the son of Olive Olstad and John Smith, came to Chicago in Dec. 1912. He launched his career as a public servant with the Prohibition Office on Oct. 26, 1925, transferred to the Office of Collector of Customs on Nov. 6, 1926, and retired in 1960 from the Treasury Department.

Carl Olstad came to America in 1873 with his parents. Carl moved westward to homestead in Drake, N. D. in 1901. He helped organize the Norwegian Lutheran Church, Broadview Grange and Farmers' Union. He was a member of Broken Column Masonic Lodge. His wife Rose attended Winona Teachers' College, then taught school in Minn. and Iowa before she came to N. D. She was the first teacher in southern McHenry Co. She taught in 4 districts — 3 months in each. The "shanty" would be hauled the few miles to the next district for 3 months of schooling and then on again. She was always active in PTA, Grange, Farmers' Union and Home Demonstrations. Her diaries kept from 1898 until her death give a vivid history of the changing times during her lifetime.

The Maris Family

“These are the times that try men’s souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country, but he that stands in now deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like Hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheaply we esteem too lightly; it is dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed if so celestial an article as freedom should not be highly rated.”

THE MARIS FAMILY

David Maris served in the Revolutionary War in Capt. Hugh Jones Co. Third Battalion of Chester Co., Pennsylvania Militia commanded by Lt. Col. Cabel Davis from 1780 to 1783.

Nathaniel N. Maris was the gunsmith in Nashville, Ind. He came there when nineteen years old from Belmont Co., Ohio with his gunsmith tools. (Mary L. Cutsinger has the solid walnut chest dove-tailed and still in good condition.) His log shop was across from the court house, southside. He lived in the hotel also built of logs next to it on the corner of the lot. (Mary thinks the year was 1846.) Nathaniel was elected County Commissioner by the Republican Party in late 1850. He was appointed State Provost Marshall during the Civil War. He was captain of the Home Guard — drilled soldiers for the front, and hunted the deserter and turned them over to the officer at Columbus, Ind. After Nathaniel N. Maris married Mary Richardson, he built a log cabin on his farm near Bean Blossom in 1854, also a log shop where he had his gunsmith shop. He later built a good frame house. He would go to Cincinnati, Ohio, at least twice a year for supplies for his shop and for merchandise for the family and the neighbors. After the Civil War he sold his farm near Bean Blossom and moved to Ninevah when Mary's mother was ten years old. She attended Miller Academy, a private school where she had a good education; reading, writing, music, sewing, etc.

Nathaniel's father, Curtis Maris, came to Brown County with wife and two daughters, one Nancy E. Maris, soon after Nat had come. One of the sisters taught school. They also had a farm near Bean Blossom. Curtis Maris is buried in Georgetown, Ind.

MARIS-BEATY FAMILIES

Nancy Maris and John Beaty lived on a farm between Morgantown and Bean Blossom, Ind. They had four children. The eldest, Sam Beaty, left home for some unknown reason, and no one heard from him until he was dying. He passed away April 24, 1911. Grandma Beaty, with Campsa and Mary Belle, came to Illinois by train. Oscar rode a horse to Illinois, with a mule and a dog following him. They settled in the Macedonia neighborhood north of Garrett. Later, Oscar attended business college in Terra Haute, Ind., while both sisters got enough education so they could teach, which they did in Illinois. This is where they met their husbands: Campsa met Bill Bell and Mary met Will Monroe.

Grandma Beaty (Nancy Maris Gregg Beaty) passed away Oct. 15, 1888, and is buried in the Lake Fork Cemetery about two miles north of Atwood, Ill. Her son Sam is buried beside her. Oscar Beaty, while a young man, worked in a grocery store at Garrett. While there, he met Della Collings whom he married. They started farming about five miles north of Garrett. They had two sons, Harold and Howard. Harold, who was a successful business man and farmer, died in 1952. His wife, Blanche, and son live in Atwood where Richard is finishing high school.

Oscar Beaty farmed for years in the Macedonia Community and was very active in the Methodist Church. In 1922 he retired from farming and moved to Atwood where he joined Harold in the garage and oil business. They were both active in Lions Club, Methodist Church and the Masons. Oscar died in 1948, and his widow Della still lives in Atwood.

Howard, Oscar's second son, lived most of his life on a farm. He married Leota Harder in 1923 and started farming in 1924. They have lived on the old homeplace ever since. Their son John attended grade school at Atwood, HS, and University of Illinois College of Agriculture. He is married and has two young sons. He is manager of his farm and teaches agriculture at Martinsville, Ill. Daughter attended Atwood High and Commercial college in Champaign and she is secretary at University of Illinois. Her husband Bruce Kellogg is at U. of I. studying electrical engineering.

The Mary Belle Beaty and William Franklin families: Olan Beaty Monroe is with the Federal Gov't Crop Insurance program. Burrell Jeff Monroe is affiliated with the Methodist Church. His daughter Mary is a housewife active in the Mormon church. Lois is also a housewife and active in church work (Catholic). Burrell Jack Monroe is a rancher and interested in sports. Harry Monroe was working for a large company here in U. S. and was transferred to their plant in Canada and since then made his home in Canada. Roy's children: Max Olan is a student at Denver Univ. and served in the Marines. Billy is in the Navy, and Shirley is a dental assistant in Denver. Gordon Farmer, Blanche's husband was a rural mail carrier. Their son Bill is a Denver U. graduate and now is with All State Insurance for the last seven years and is active in the Congregational Church and youth work. Ferol is a U. of Arizona graduate and is a PE teacher in Tuscon. She is also interested in the training and riding of horses as well as youth work.

THE CUTSINGER FAMILY

Mary Elizabeth Lacy Cutsinger's father James Davis Lacy had served in the Civil War for 3 years and 7 months. Mary married Floyd Cutsinger in 1909 and they lived in Franklin; then in 1923 moved to a farm in the Union community; then in 1942 moved to the Proffitt farm in Franklin township. Floyd was a farmer all his life. He was active in the Methodist Church and was always intensely interested in Masonry and its related bodies. He was also active in the Democratic Party. Their son John has served as Prosecuting Attorney for Johnson and Brown counties. John served in WWII for 3-1/2 years in the African and European Theaters. He is active in the Presbyterian Church, civic groups and Masonry. He is married and they have one daughter, Martha.

Descendants of Phoebe Holloway Carleton Gregg

Hannah Dora McCabe, born November 30, 1866, is now living in Reedley, California. She is ninety-six.

THE McCABE FAMILIES

Jim McCabe and Phoebe came from Belmont, Ohio, around 1880 settling on the "Big Road" that went between Morgantown and Nashville, Ind. They moved to Howard Ridge west of Nashville with their two children, Dora and Frank. They bought and cleared some timberland and being from the orchard and fruit land of Ohio, they soon had the best orchard and berry patches in Brown County. They often took their produce, including butter, eggs, and chickens, to Bloomington and did well financially. Dora went from the eighth grade and started teaching in Grant County and also continued her education at Teachers' College at Terra Haute. Dora said the county school superintendent did not ask her age. Franklin as soon as possible went away to Teacher's College near Terra Haute. Franklin taught school in Grant County, then he bought a store in Hackelman, Ind., where his parents followed him to Hackelman. There Jim McCabe died in the summer of 1899.

Dora married Aretus Miller, who died shortly after the death of their daughter in 1890. Dora married Riley Ross in 1896 and they lived in Needmore, Ind., where their son Glenn was born. They moved to Hackelman where Ruth and Nellie were born. In 1902 they moved to California. They built their home in the rural area of Dinuba where Dora now lives with her daughter and son-in-law, Ruth and Oliver Spencer, who have a vineyard for the producing of raisins. Riley Ross is buried in the Reedley Cemetery, California.

Franklin (Frank) McCabe visited by R. Gregg in 1952 in Modesto, California.

THE McCABE FAMILY

Franklin was a Supervisor of schools in Hackelman area for a four year term. Since he could not succeed himself, one week after his term of office closed, Dec. 31, Frank moved his family from Indiana to California arriving their Jan. 11, 1909. Frank, with his wife and sons Russell and Duane settled near Dinuba where Frank carried on irrigated farming. He was active in the Methodist Church and taught the Men's Sunday School class for many years. They moved to Modesto about 1931. Russell graduated from Dinuba HS in 1921. He had one year at U. of Southern Cal. Married Glennie in 1923 and in 1928 moved to Vallejo and then to Napa in August 1941. He worked for 31 years at Mare Island Naval shipyard, Vallejo. He was a sheetmetal worker and a training supervisor. He retired Sept. 30, 1959. His hobbies are amateur radio, photography, boating and gardening. Frank served for four years in the Army Air Force and is superintendent of an air conditioning organization. He lives with his family of four children in Palo Alto. Joyce is married and is the mother of two boys and is living near Los Angeles. Dorothy was married to Arthur L. Marsden. They have two daughters. They have been divorced and Dorothy is now married to Steve Hardin on July 1962. They are now living in Hollywood, California.

Duane McCabe is a farmer near Hollister, Calif. He has a new home on his own twelve acres and rents about fifty additional acres. Reports indicate that he has especially fine apricots.

ALL DEPENDS ON YOUR HURRY

by

William Herschell

Life all depends on your hurry, folks
Fer instance, take Mother and me:
Ox-cartin' over a country road —
A diplomat never as free.

Gatherin' glory from wayside scenes,
Old gadabouts ramblin' along:
Maybe I whistle a soldier tune —
Sweet Mother — skylarking a song!

Often I wonder how oxen feel
Hearin' us chuckle an' sing:
Still, They well reckon at eventide
Plentiful hay I will bring.

Oh what's th' hurry — th' hurry, folks?
I'm an old fossil, you'll say;
Don't try to buy th' ox-team or cart —
Old Mother would run you away!

Pass us with gasoline all you like,
We'll both go laughin' along:
Maybe I'll whistle some sacred air —
Mother — a radio song.

You that go hurryin', day by day.
Oughtn't to hurry at all;
Meadowlarks wait for an audience —
Slow down — Ma says — to their call!

Indianapolis News

George Hamilton Gregg and his wife Belle with the ox team and cart.

GEORGE HAMILTON AND HIS OXEN

For some years after reaching Indiana, George farmed the fertile soil of the White River Valley near Paragon. As his boys grew older and assumed more of the farm labor, George trained oxen as a hobby and to use them in the fields. He exhibited them in many county and some state fairs. One team, Buck and Berry, three year old Holsteins, combined weight of #2605, were controlled entirely by deaf and dumb signals as they could not understand or would not respond to spoken commands. An incident at one of the fairs bore this out. Lum and Abner, the radioteam were to make their entrance into the arena in a cart drawn by Buck and Berry. There was so much noise that Lum and Abner feared the ox team would fail to hear the signals and would make a poor entrance, but the ox team glancing back at George followed his hand signals and carried on with the show without a falter. The ox team was also part of a May Day program at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind.

George used the animals for cultivation purposes and usually plowed about fifty gardens in the vicinity of Morgantown every year. George had used ox teams off and on throughout the years for farming. Their road speed was three miles an hour, but the steers were kept on soft ground most of the time because they were not shod. They were transported in trucks when displayed at fairs, etc. (From Franklin, Indiana, Evening Star and other news clippings 1935-1937.)

George H. Gregg and Belle Gregg went to Nebraska with Thomas and Beatrice who was only a year old at the time. Beatrice doesn't know how the family traveled from Ohio to Nebraska, but in her own words tells about the family.

I do know my father took a homestead and we lived a few years in a sod house, one room, built in a bank. We were fifteen miles from Hemingford out the front and thirty miles to Shadron out the back way. Our first few years my father built a frame house — one end was kitchen, the other end was a bed and sitting room. While in the dugout Thomas died with diptheria and I nearly did, too. Vernon Barns and Flossy Lee were born before we moved into the frame home on the hill.

The fall I was six and a half years old, mother took the three of us to Ohio. Father took us to Hemingford in the covered wagon to catch the train. Father came through to Ohio in the covered wagon, stopping in Illinois to visit with the Martin families. He left with our shepherd dog, but lost him on the way. The dog probably went back home to Nebraska. When father got to Ohio, he rented a house, bought furniture and we stayed there near Jerusalem on a farm. Six months later Dora was born. Then we pulled up stakes. Mother and the four children took the train for Indiana. Dad had gone ahead with Lee Ridgeway in the covered wagon. Ridgeway got homesick and traded his 20 A. in Brown Co. to father for a horse and harness which he sold for train fare so he could get back to his family. We had homemade furniture, very crude. So that was our first home in Brown County — a two room home and a barn.

Vernon Barns Gregg with Floy standing in front of rail fence in Trafalgar, Indiana, in early 1900's.

Vernon Gregg moved westward with his family through Ohio to Indiana where they located near Mahalasville, Morgan county, in 1901. The children enrolled in Cook school in northwest Brown County where they completed their grammar school education. Vernon and sister remember one of their first teachers in Indiana, Robert Gregg.

Vernon moved with the family to Paragon and eventually to his farm east of Morgantown. There he and his wife are farming today. These are the crops that Vernon reported for 1962: corn, 100 bu./A, soybeans 35 bu./A and wheat 38 bu./A. He cared for eighteen heifers and one thousand laying hens. He sells all the eggs retail at the door of his farm home. When asked about his health, he replied, "OK, except for old age," and added, "I did all my own farm work this year (1962)". Vernon is active in the Christian Church in Morgantown, the Masonic Lodge and in farm organizations. His farm is located between Morgantown and Trafalgar, Indiana.

In 1915 Flossy married Daniel H. Mason who was ordained as a Methodist minister while living in the South. In 1953 he retired as inspector for RCA.

Dora Belle married John Ray Afflerbach. John died of a heart attack in the same house in which he was born. He had spent all his life in Morgan County on the farm where he was born. He was a member of the Old Union Methodist Church.

GREGG — BROWN FAMILIES

Mary Ruth Gregg married Monte Brown. They own a farm and do general farming near Paragon, Indiana. They are affiliated with the Methodist Church. The oldest son Floyd farms near Paragon and works at a grain elevator. His family is with the Baptist Church. Mary married Lester Wayman who works as a meat cutter at King-an's, Indianapolis. They are raising their family in Beech Grove. Wilma married Kenneth Rohland who clerks in a hardware store at Martinsville. The family belongs to the Baptist Church. Harry N. Brown attended one year at Indiana University and is a graduate of Spartan College of Aeronautics at Tulsa, Okla. Having his pilot license he enlisted in the Air Force and served for four years. He returned from Korea, married Virginia and worked as an engine inspector at Allison's in Indianapolis. His daughter Carol takes music lessons from Mable Clare Hawley Arthur who is also her teacher. (See Squires-Lear)

Robert Emmett Gregg spends the winters in Florida with his wife. James Fleck Gregg married Belle Leach, and after his death Belle made her home with her son Glenn who operates a notion store in Orlando, Florida. (Our information about Robert, Farmer, Anna, Ellie and James was limited to the few facts shown.)

TUTTERROW

Omer Tutterrow and Beatrice met when they were seven years old attending Cook School in Indiana and there they were sweethearts in school for the next seven years. They met again in Morgantown when Beatrice was seventeen and they were married the following years. Omer was a widely known Muncie, Indiana, grocer who retired in Oct. 1944 due to a stroke. Previously to his retirement he operated three grocery stores and was active in organization of Quality Service Stores. He taught the Men's Sunday School class in the Baptist Church of Muncie. They had five children, Victor and Vernon, twins, Harold, Franklin and Genevieve their only daughter who died when an infant.

Victor and Rosella Tutterrow belong to the First Baptist Church of Muncie, Ind., and Victor has been at Delco Remy for 21 years. Rosella and her daughter Marjoria sing in the First Baptist choir. Marjoria's husband works in a machine shop. Lucille a housewife and her husband Homer, president of a car sales agency, also belong to the First Baptist Church. Patricia and her husband live in a home that Ferrell built himself.

Vernon and Phyllis Tutterrow have built their new home in the desert close to Victorville. Vernon is a machinist at North American Air Craft. They have seven children and are members of the congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. Barbara is married to Charles Van Scoy who served in the Army in Korea; their religion is "Jehovah's Witnesses" and Charles' hobby is guns. Charles' father has a land grant from Dutch — "1 mile wide territory clear across U. S. Coast to Coast." Vernon Perry Tutterrow is a turret lathe operator at North American Aviation in Hawthorne. He and his wife Charlene are interested in bowling. Thelma and her husband William Johnson also belong to Jehovah's Witnesses, and William is an auto mechanic. Victor is a furnace operator. Ellen and Richard have five children, and Richard works at Climate Control, Air Conditioning. His hobby is tropical fish. Glenn and Gary are both single. Gary after graduation from high school is driving a school bus for Christian School.

Harold worked at Douglas Aircraft for 21 years. Daughter Nancy went to Pepperdine College and to L.A. State College. Valerie has had two years at Santa Monica City College and one year at L.A. State College, and wants to be a nurse. Gregg is in high school. Valerie's husband served in the Navy and is now a linotype operator in the Concordant Publishing Co.

Franklin served in WWII in the European Theater. He has made his home in Indiana.

Gustaf Erick came from Sweden on Steamship Olympic when he was 24 years old. He settled in Joliet, Ill., and sent for his wife Emma and son August. He was a blacksmith for five years in Illinois, then was a farmer in Woods County, Wis., for five years. He went to Illinois to visit and then on to California to live where he and Beatrice were married in the Assembly of God Church with Vernon giving his mother away. Gust was back to Sweden once to visit with his blind mother who lived to be 84 years old. His father had died at the age of 57 years.

CONCLUSION

As this book comes to a close, there is the realization that there will never be a convenient cutting-off point. There were two births and one death that were inserted after the book was officially closed. After sorting through the information, compiling data, and checking for authenticity and accuracy the editor has a few observations to make. The people in general who live in this book were hard working people, gave support to the church of their faith and were interested in furthering their or their children's education. Farmers and teachers seemed to dominate the career fields. Civil service be it local, state or federal drew a fair share of people. The professions such as law, medicine or the ministry had fewer still participating. A great number served in the many industries that keep this nation productive. The law breakers were scarce.

A letter which was submitted for the book gave such a graphic picture of war it was included as a tribute to all those who have served in any of the conflicts that have preserved our identity as a nation.

The re-reading and the re-writing have come to a halt. There is a sincere desire that accuracy has been maintained as the letters, charts, and notes are filed away, and the last copy is completed.

JULY 13 FROM GERMANY

Received your letter of June 28th. Was glad to hear from you and have been wondering how you were. Am glad you and Dad got back. Tell Dad to take it easy. We are taking it easy now. There isn't a whole lot to write now.

When we were in combat there was plenty to write about but we couldn't write it. Now there isn't much to write about. We hardly ever rehash our battle experiences. The boys all feel its better to forget them. We entered combat Feb. 11, 1945, in the Ardennes Forest. That is where the "Battle of the Bulge" took place. There were thousands dead left behind and hundreds of burnt trucks and guns. It sure was a scarry place. We fired our guns for seventeen straight days and nights. There was plenty of snow and rain and mud. We slept in log cabins we built and stood guard when we weren't firing. One couldn't see ten feet from where he stood guard. Then the big push started on Feb. 28. We fired and guns fired behind us for miles. We threw millions of shells on the Jerrys. Then came march orders. We loaded our shells on trucks, coupled-up our guns, and took off chasing Jerry. We only went up to the Siegfried Line and there they stopped us. Then we went through the same thing again. Then another march order and we were chasing Jerry out of the Siegfried Line. Finally after several days we arrived at Remagen bridgehead. From there we went to Cologne. From Cologne to Koblenz. We took over 1,000 villages and towns. The Jerrys would give up a whole town. Then when we'd start in they'd open up fire on us. Then we'd withdraw our troops and shell hell out of the town. The German civilians would want to give up but the SS Troups wouldn't. We went through Kasseluder, Nuremberg, Leipzig, Elenburg and gradually we were drawing closer to the Russians. The war was about over on May first, but boys were still dying. So were the Germans dying, but they still held on. Why we couldn't understand. Any day we might get a stray bullet and again we might be lucky. When the war finally ended we had been in combat ninety days without rest. We all looked like starved rats. What food we did get went through us like a dose of salts. We all had running off of the bowels. It was caused from nerves.

You would have thought the boys would celebrate when they heard the war with Germany was over. There was no shouting, no boisterous laughing as the paper printed and very little drinking. Everything where we were was very orderly and quiet.

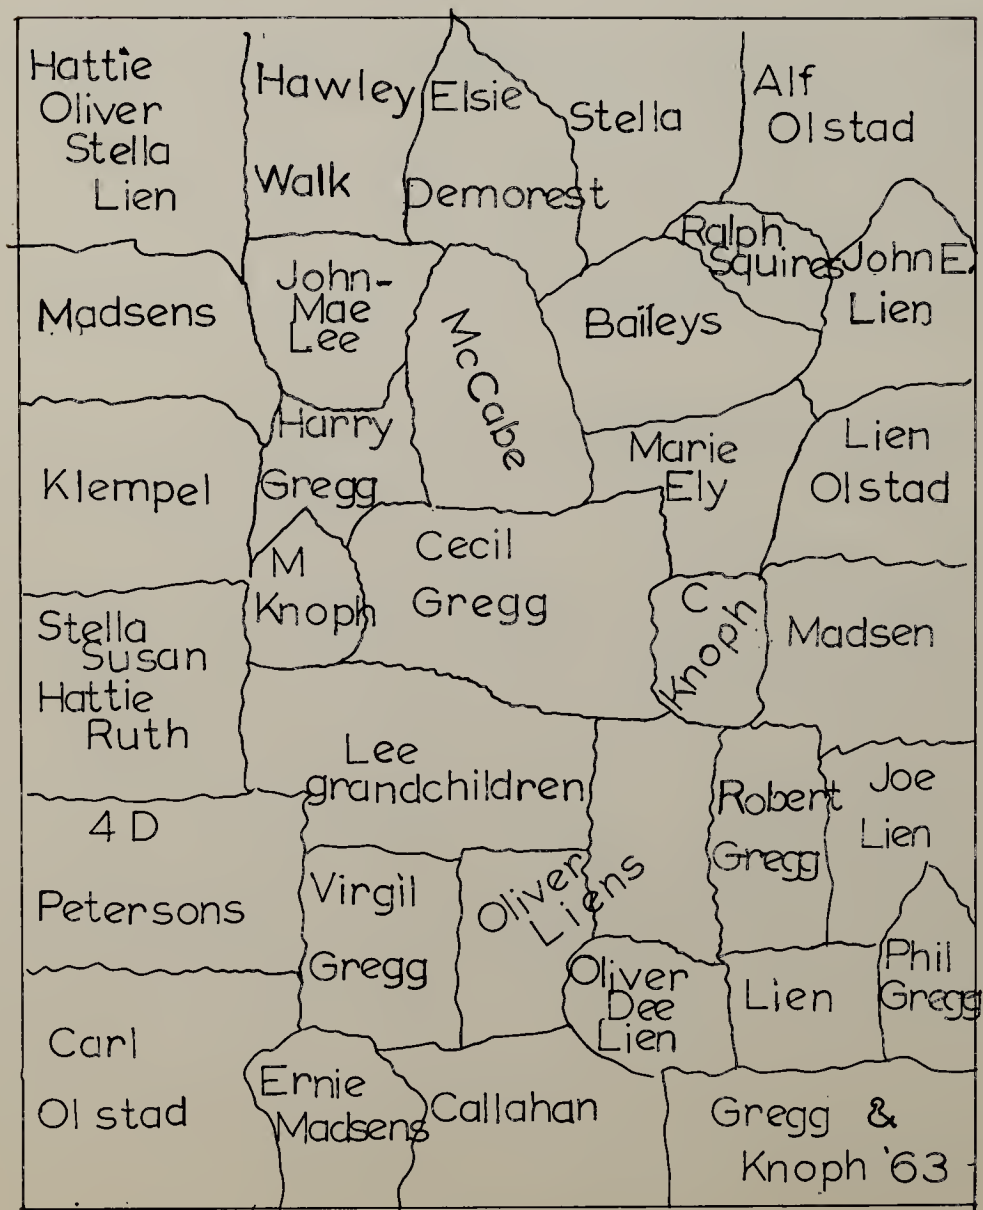

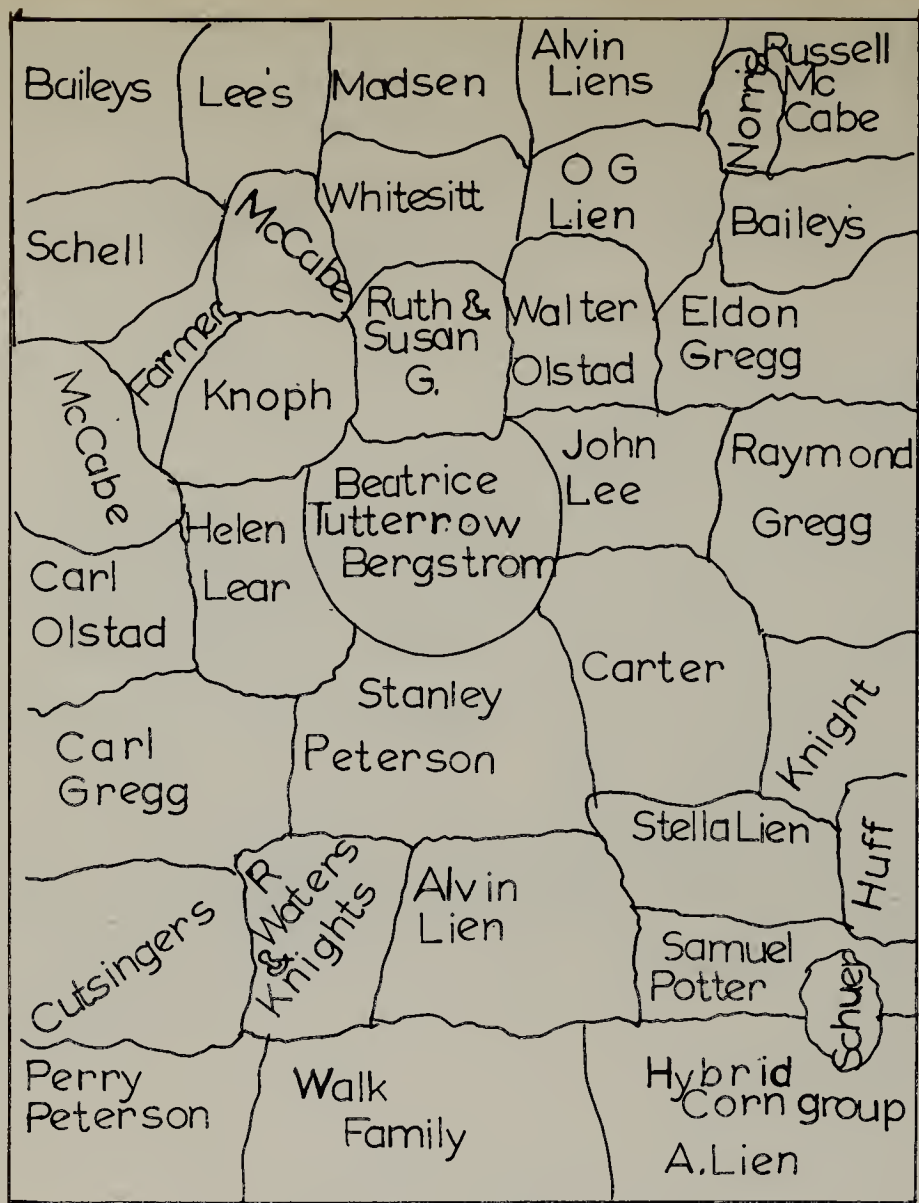

Maybe I shouldn't have written this, but thought you would understand our feelings toward war. Personally, I had very little to do with winning the war. I was only scared, cold and sometimes hungry.

Well folks, write soon and keep your chins up,
Your skinny son.

P.S. The food is excellent. We have a new mess sergeant. My nerves are ready for a trip home anytime. We are about sixty miles from Kassel now. We turned in our guns today. When I say guns, I mean 105 Howitzers.
